Jeff High Teacher Cuts

By WILL E. THOMAS

Reduction of the Jefferson Union High School District instructional staff by 20 positions is underway to comply with a recent trustee ruling that established the teacher-to-pupil ratio at 31-1.

Dr. Harold C. Tonini, assistant superintendent for personnel, said he was hopeful, however, that voluntary transfers being accepted until March 14 will take care of district needs.

It already is known that transfers and resignations will take care of at least half the district's needs. Seven teachers have indicated they will not return for the next year, but five others will return from sabbaticals or other leaves, resulting in a "net loss" of two.

Volunteer transfers for Serramonte classes are being accepted, Tonini pointed out. That new school will need ten new instructors.

Teacher reductions at individual schools:

Jefferson, 11; Westmoor 13; Oceana 4; Terra Nova 2; Serramonte, Thornton, none.

Should voluntary transfers not materialize "involuntary transfers will be instituted," Tonini said.

The Education Code, it was explained, provides for releasing teachers "in inverse order of their employment. Thus, the most recently hired teachers are the first to go."

Westmoor Principal Richard Coltrell said, has four first-year teachers and the like number in their second year, which indicates some instructors with tenure must be transferred, since Westmoor is to have a reduction of 13 teachers, Tonini explained.

A Caravan For Equal Education

By DON GRIERSON

An estimated 600 teachers, taxpayers and parents from Pacifica and Daly City went to Sacramento Monday to demonstrate support for statewide equalization of school financing.

Particpating in the "Equalize Education Now" campaign initiated by Pacifica's School Finance Strategy Committee, the North County teachers and residents were meeting with members of the Senate Education Committee, Finance Committee and Taxation Committee, similar committees in the State Assembly, Governor Ronald Reagan and other state officials.

Supt. Fred Lucas of the Laguna Salada Elementary School District, Ed Morgan of Jefferson High School District and Frank Greenwood of the Jefferson Elementary School District, along with several trustees from the three districts, were scheduled to present their financial problems to Governor Reagan personally in a meeting this afternoon.

Approximately 200 teachers and administrators from the Laguna Salada schools were participating in the day-long "demonstration," along with an equal number from the Jefferson High School District.

In the Jefferson Elementary School District, classes were held Monday, but a delegation of 12 teachers and principals were given the day off to participate.

The teachers who chose not to make the trip to Sacramento were holding panel discussions and workshops on financing at the various schools in Daly City and Pacifica.

A number of volunteers were also dispensing information and collecting petition signatures at booths in Pacifica's seven shopping centers.

The Jefferson Elementary School District Board of Trustees meeting originally scheduled for tonight has been postponed until Wednesday night to allow administrators and board members to participate in the "Equalize Education Now" campaign in Sacramento, Supt. Frank Greenwood said.

Transit Hearing Again Delayed

Another delay in their planning timetable was approved, with some misgivings, by directors of the West Bay Rapid Transit Authority Monday.

Public hearings on a proposed master transit plan, originally scheduled for March 18 through 20, were postponed one week on the recommendation of General Manager John C. Lilly. The new schedule:

March 25—Westmoor High School, Daly City, 8 p.m.

March 26—Beresford Recreation Center, San Mateo, 8 p.m.

March 27—Veterans Memorial Building, Redwood City, 8 p.m.

Lilly said the delay became necessary because planning for the mailing of 190,000 copies of the proposed master plan summary is taking longer than anticipated.

The Authority, which is scheduled to submit the plan in its final form to the electorate on June 10, has just about used up all its chances for delays and must stick to a rigid time schedule from here on, directors agreed. Chairman William R. Lawson even expressed concern that the one-week postponement of the public hearings might jeopardize the Authority's plans for a full public informational program prior to the election.

At the request of the directors, special counsel Frank Piombo has drawn up legislation extending the tenure of the West Bay agency so that the election can be held in November in the event that the June date cannot, or, in the judgment of directors, should not be met. The bill has been introduced in Sacramento by Senator Richard J. Dolwig but West Bay officials were quick to point out yesterday that there is no assurance that the legislation will be approved by the target date—April 10.

DeBernardi Concerned Over WBRTA

The West Bay Rapid Transit Authority is scheduled to reach the end of their track on June 10 and at least one transit director is more than slightly concerned over this fact.

Daly City Councilman Micheal DeBernardi informed his fellow councilmen during a study session at the city hall Monday night that unless the State Legislature extends the present deadline at least six months (until December), the entire project might be sidetracked by voters who have not been properly informed.

With less than four months to go before citizens will be asked to vote on the feasibility of multi-million dollar mass transit system, DeBernardi feels there is not enough time to meet with the public and officials throughout the county to work out any necessary changes.

Earlier this month, San Bruno City Council adopted a stiff stand opposing any extension of time for WBRTA.

Next week, DeBernardi will present the current transit plan to a meeting of the North County Council of Mayors and ask for their support in getting the extension, he said.

S.S.F. Seeks Return Of Local Control

Mayor Frank Bertucelli and members of the South San Francisco council Monday adopted a resolution supporting a State Senate bill calling for "a return of a degree of control to local jurisdictions."

"It is essential that state legislation be enacted to assure predictability of the law and to enable local jurisdictions to regulate unwholesome activities which are not regulated by the state," the resolution states.

Senate Bill 4, introduced by Senator H. L. Richardson, would provide this desired effect, according to the council resolution.

In other business Monday, the council awarded the sale of $150,000 in bonds for the South Airport Boulevard area sewer project to First California Company of San Francisco.

Gas Explosion In S.S.F.; Man Badly Injured

A house on "A" Street in South San Francisco exploded on Friday, sending one man to the hospital with serious injuries and shattering glass for blocks around.

Police and fire officials said the blast occurred at 109 A Street when Eugene Keye, 33, attempted to light a gas stove about 9:30 p.m.

The explosion blew out the walls of Keye's residence, and shook houses throughout the neighborhood to their foundations.

Glass damage and damage from the concussion shock was reported at 12 other residences in the neighborhood.

After the explosion, Keye, who was alone in the house when the blast occurred, staggered to a neighbor's residence to telephone for help. He was rushed to Peninsula Hospital for treatment of severe cuts about the face and hands and extensive burns. He was reported in serious condition today.

Another neighborhood resident, Mary Grines, of 106 First Street, received minor injuries in the blast, according to a fire department spokesman.

Fire Department Captain Donald Nelson said residents five miles away from the blast telephoned to inquire about the explosion and it was heard in every area of the city.

The entire top half of Keye's house was lifted up "probably as much as a foot," firemen said, leaving a crack around the building when it settled back into place.

Keye's next door neighbor, Carmen Bonocci, was working on a car in his garage, which is adjacent to Keye's residence when the explosion occurred.

"Everything in the garage came down," he said.

Other residents reported their dish shelves were emptied in the explosion, and some damage to stucco exteriors was reported.

Firemen said the total property damage from the blast, ex-

San Bruno CC Meet On Merger

Representatives of a San Francisco management consultant firm will speak at the March 17 "Monday Forum" of the San Bruno Chamber of Commerce.

Larry B. Mobley, the chamber's executive vice president, announced that two members of Knight & Ladieux, Inc. will be guests at the noon gathering at the Lazy V. Restaurant.

Their appearance will be in concjunction with the San Bruno chamber's decision to "take a closer look" at the "feasibility of a San Bruno-Millbrae municipal merger.

Mobley wrote to members of the Millbrae City Council and chamber, county supervisors, supervisors and San Bruno councilmen.

Mobley has invited each of the bodies to the luncheon session.

Mobley said the management consulting firm "has an extensive background in serving governmental agencies in such areas as the feasibility of merger or consolidation and the setting up of facilities for coordination of operations and services."

Sweeney Ridge Hikes Are Planned

Organized hikes to the Portola Discovery Site atop Sweeney Ridge in Pacifica have been scheduled for each weekend this month, according to Carl McCarthy, coordinator for the Portola Expedition Bicentennial Foundation.

A six-mile walking tour will begin next Sunday at 1 p.m. at the Terra Nova High School football field, and a seven-mile hike is scheduled March 15.

The March 15 tour will begin at Crespi School and terminate at Oddstad and Park Pacifica Drive.

March 23, a five-mile hike is scheduled and a jeep tour will be conducted March 29, beginning at 10 a.m.

In addition to the organized tours, hikers may obtain permits for individual treks to the discovery site from the Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation Department, McCarthy said.

Ban of After-5 Solicitation Proposed at D.C. Meeting

Residents Fear Burglary 'Casing', Letters Claim

By FRANK LaPIERRE

A proposal which would ban all solicitation in Daly City atfer 5 p.m. was raised at a study session of the city council Monday night.

Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett informed his fellow councilmen that the City had received a number of letters from "concerned citizens" regarding nighttime solicitation.

"Most of the senders believe some solicitors use their jobs as a means of 'casing' a private home before breaking in," Lycett explained.

He felt the ban would aid in cutting down on the present burglary plague that has hit the city in recent months.

But city attorney Albert Polonsky said the present law governing solicitors does not allow such a curfew on solicitors and suggested an amendment which would require solicitors to notify police immediately prior to their activities in a neighborhood.

The proposal, if adopted by the council, would affect not only "one time" solicitors, but also newsboys, and charity fund-raising groups.

Only one councilman, Frank Pacelli, voiced opposition to the proposal.

"I don't think we're ready for this . . . I'm kind of against it," Pacelli said.

Before any direct action is taken on the matter, Mayor Lycett instructed City Manager Edward Frank to get an evaluation and opinion from the police department.

Union Leader Disputes D.C. Appointments

The eligibility of three Daly City Personnel Board commissioners to serve on that board has been disputed by Frank Gillis, business representative for Local 57, of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes.

In a letter to the council, Gillis has asked for a ruling from City Atty. Albert Polonsky on whether the appointments of J. Jay Flynn, Robert Young and William Glenn Weman are in conflict with Article II, Section 20-13 of the Daly City code, which deals with appointments and qualification of commission members.

The section reads in part that "no person shall be appointed to such board who holds any salaried public office or employment. . . ."

Flynn is with the Highway Patrol; Young is employed by the U.S. Navy; and Weman is with the San Mateo County Housing Authority.

Polonsky said he is now preparing a brief on the matter, but refused further comment on the matter.

In an earlier opinion, the County District Attorney's Office informed Daly City there would be no conflict of interest concerning Weman's appointment to the board and Weman accepted the post on that ruling, Polonsky siad.

Accord Between County And South S.F. on Westborough

South San Francisco councilmen Monday gave tentative approval to a compromise agreement arranged by Mayor Frank Bertucelli and Supervisor James Fitzgerald for resolution of the Westborough Boulevard dispute.

A copy of the formal agreement was forwarded to the board for consideration at today's meeting. If supervisors approve the arrangement, the council will take formal action at an adjourned meeting Wednesday.

In a reversal of their previous attitude toward the project, councilmen decided not to take formal action on the proposal Monday "in order to avoid the impression that we have adopted a hard position."

Both city and county officials have been in a compromising mood on the project for the past two weeks, after remaining deadlocked over several relatively minor issues for months.

The agreement, as presented to the council Monday, calls for county maintenance of the Colma Creek storm drain to be built in connection with the profect for a period of at least four years.

If the Colma Creek Flood Control Project is underway at the end of the four-year period, the county will assume maintenance responsibility for the drain for an additional three years.

"If the flood control project is underway, the county will transfer maintenance of the facility to the Colma Creek Flood Control Zone. If the zone is not in existence, the county may transfer the facility to the City of South San Francisco."

The city earlier insisted that the county assume permanent responsibility for maintaining the drain, along with liability for any flood damage which might result from its installation.

County officials had refused to assume the maintenance responsibility "because such a move would set a precedent, and destroy the concept of the flood control zone."

Other provisions of the new tentative agreement include an arrangement for the city and county to share the expense of a pedestrian overpass to be built at Camaritas Avenue and Westborough Boulevard Extension.

The city has agreed to allow one access road to the California Golf Club property.

"Access to the southerly side of the Westborough Boulevard Extension shall be limited to one access with right turns in and out, and any additional access shall be with consent of the City of South San Francisco, except that provision shall be made for a crossing so that the California Golf Club may service a pump located on the westerly side of the road," the proposed agreement states.

The proposal provides that the Westborough Boulevard Improvement from Skyline to Junipero Serra and the extension project from Junipero Serra to Old Mission Road be joined as one project.

The $1 million project has been delayed for at least a year because of the disagreement between the city and county.

Nobody Won At This Game

By WILL E. THOMAS

Ten San Bruno card players probably were wearing grim faces and headaches Monday, for the last game after an all-night poker session was a shocking loser for every one of them early Sunday.

Well, actually, there were three winners — but none of them were in the game.

They were the men who knocked on the door of the Harold F. Johnson residence at 1980 Claremont, San Bruno, about 6:05 a.m. Sunday, bound the card players and took $4,857 in cash, jewelry and wallets.

A San Bruno police spokesman said the ten men had gathered at the retired import firm manager's home for a few games of cards.

They did this frequently, the policeman noted.

At the knock on the door, Johnson, 67, went to see who was interrupting the game.

Three men — two of them flashing handguns — pushed Johnson back into the living room, where seven players remained at the table. They were directed to get on the floor. They did. "For effect," a police source said, one of the bandits fired a round into the living room ceiling.

A ninth player, police said, was asleep in a bedroom. One of the bandits awakened him. As the sleepy player reached for his trousers, the robber fired a shot into a wall, commenting "You don't need your pants."

The tenth player was in the bathroom. He soon joined the others on the floor, the authorities said.

The bandits, one of whom wore a nylon stocking over his face, then bound all the players, using white adhesive tape to tie their hands behind them and strips of a sheet to bind their feet.

Having ended the game, the suspects collected some $3,000 in cash from the victims; also took wallets, jewelry and car keys, for a total haul of $4,857.

The thieves searched cupboards and closets, and, police said, ripped out the phone cord before they left.

Two of the suspects were of stocky build; one was thin, authorities said. All were white.

One of the weapons has been identified as a 25-caliber automatic.

New Delays In Hearings For Transit

trict as to their feeling about the proposed six-month extension and the San Bruno City Council has already gone on record as opposed. Director Micheal DeBernardi, who is a councilman in Daly City, said he felt San Bruno's action was the result of a lack of information about the plan. DeBernardi said he favors delaying the election until November "because the people of San Mateo County are entitled to all the information we can give them."

A special meeting of the board was scheduled for 3:30 p.m. next Monday to decide on a final timetable.

A March 12 meeting with Santa Clara County transit planners was also arranged. West Bay directors are hopeful that Santa Clara County's plans can be tied in with those for San Mateo County. The West Bay plan calls for a trunk transit line extending from Daly City to San Bruno and south generally paralleling the Southern Pacific tracks to Santa Clara County. The trunk line, to be financed and built in stages, would be supplemented by a county-wide express and feeder bus service.

Lilly announced that printing of the 190,000 summaries was awarded to the Peninsula Lithograph Company on a low bid of $5,240. It will cost another $6,600 for postage, Lilly said. Plans to have Boy Scouts distribute the summaries to all San Mateo County homes did not work out, Lilly said.

The meeting was adjourned in memory of Werner Diederichsen, West Bay director who died last Wednesday.

Lycett Backs Funds Drive

Daly City Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett today issued a proclamation urging citizens to support the San Mateo College fund drive now underway in the North County.

The fund drive, sponsored by a group of interested citizens headed up by County Human Relations Commission chairman Frank Spadarella, is aimed at assisting those students enrolled at CSM who are faced with financial difficulties.

Lycett noted the inability of about ten percent of the students at CSM to continue their education because of an acute shortage of funds.

He said "this unprecedented need has exhausted resources presently available for the remainder of 1968-69" and that if the need is not met "this large percentage of students cannot remain in school."

The plight of the affected students was "a personal tragedy" which compounds a major situation facing today's society, the mayor said.

In urging citizens to support the drive mayor Lycett proclaimed the week of March 1-8 "College of San Mateo Community Fund Campaign Week."

cluding glass damage, "will probably exceed $25,000."

Keye's resident will have to be demolished, officials said.

The source of the gas leak which caused the explosion has not been located, according to firemen, and the blast is still under investigation.

Gas mains to the area were shut off after the blast, and roads into the neighborhood were also closed for several hours as firemen and police cleaned up the debris.

A small fire erupted at the Keye residence after the explosion, but fire damage was minor, according to firemen.

SSF SENIORS RUMMAGE SALE

South San Francisco Senior Citizens Club, sponsored by the Recreation and Park Department, will have its spring rummage sale March 14 and 15 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Senior Citizens lounge in Magnolia Center.

An evening of fun is planned by the club Thursday, March 20 in the lounge, beginning with a pot luck dinner at 5 p.m. and followed by a sing-a-long, dancing and cards. All are welcome.

Also pictured are runner-ups (far left) Dan Dunz, (to the right of Chris) John Bennett, and David Martinez, all students at Westmoor High School. The four students spoke on the timely subject chosen for this year's contest "The Hopes and Fears of Today's Youth." Gathered to hear the students speak were members of the SkyLions and their wives, Miss L. Holden Westmoor speech instructor, and Fred Newman, District 4C4 Student Speaker chairman. Judges for the contest were: Reverend Carl E. Curtright, Mrs. Anna Ohlendorf, City Clerk of Daly City and Mayor Bud Lycett, of Daly City. The Zone Two Lions Student Speakers contest will be held on March 5th, beginning at 7 p.m. at International Joe's, Skyline Plaza, Daly City.

New Meet Dates for Jeff High Trustees

The first and third Tuesdays of each month will be the new meeting dates of the Jefferson High School District Board of Trustees, effective April 1.

Trustees approved the new meeting days so it could change the location of its meetings from district offices in the Westlake Shopping Center office building to the council chambers in the Daly City civic center.

The shift in meeting places was hailed by District Supt. Edward D. Morgan as an attempt to utilize the entire board office in the Westlake center for business-administrative services.

But, the shift also would lead to savings, Morgan explained, allowing disposal of leased portables at Westmoor High School, those used by the physical education department.

The district office "annex," presently at Westmoor, similarly could be re-located to the Westlake offices, he noted, as could the principal of the adult education program and the Work Experience coordinator.

The only objection came from a parent, who argued the new meeting days would conflict with Jefferson Elementary trustee meetings on the same nights.

The parent said he had children in both districts and wanted to attend the meetings of both bodies.

Morgan said funds with which to lease additional business-administration office space were unavailable.

DC Baptists Set Prayer Breakfast

Fathers, sons and daughters of Westlake Southern Baptist Church will have a "Prayer Breakfast," Saturday at 8 in the church dining hall.

The program will consist of songs, meditation, testimonies, and bible study.

The Westlake Southern Baptist Church is located at 90 Northridge Drive, Daly City.

Services include:

Sunday School, 9:45 a.m.; worship, 11 a.m. and 6:40 p.m.; training union, 5:30 p.m.; mid-week service, Wednesday, 7:30 p.m.

RICHARD A. BATTAGLIA of South San Francisco has been appointed to the newly created State Social Worker and Marriage Counselor Qualifications Board by Governor Ronald Reagan.

Food Market Set Afire

Burglars broke into a Pacifica food market Sunday night, and set fire to a stack of light bulb cartons in an apparent attempt to "cover" the burglary, police said.

Police and fire officials said the blaze erupted at the Cala Food Market on Oceana Boulevard about 8:55 p.m. A sprinkler system in the store extinguished the fire quickly, but smoke and water damage was described as "extensive," especially in the produce department.

An undetermined amount of liquor, cigarets and other merchandise was taken from the store, according to management spokesmen.

Entrance to the building was gained through smashing a glass door.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas—If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss . . . and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women, that is not only stopping hair loss . . . but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Many conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair . . . now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation. Adv.

SSF Refuse Rates Up

Mayor Frank Bertucelli and South San Francisco councilmen on Monday approved the South San Francisco Scavenger Company's request for an increase in garbage collection rates last week.

Councilmen, meeting in a study session, agreed to allow an increase of 60 cents per month for a standard 30-gallon can to meet additional costs brought about by the closing of the scavenger company's dumping site in the city, and a new union contract.

The standard residential rate will increase from $1.50 per month to $2.10 after the new contract between the city and the scavenger company gains formal approval.

City Attorney John Noonan was instructed to prepare a three-year contract, subject to reviw upon expiration, for formal council action at next Monday's regular meeting.

Scavenger company president George Stagnaro and other spokesmen said the new rates are necessary to continue operations due to the long distance trucks must travel to utilize the San Francisco scavengers' dumping sites at Brisbane and Sierra Point.

Councilmen recently agreed to allow San Francisco scavengers to utilize a diked area in the city for dumping operations, provided the local firm is allowed to use the site also.

The site is owned by the Santary Fill Company, and is presently being prepared for fill and cover operations.

South San Francisco Scavenger Co. officials have been anticipating the closing of their dumping site within the city for more than a year, and earlier planned to contract with a firm for use of an incinerator to be built in the city.

The plant was never built, because of financial difficutlies experienced by the developers, and the local scavenger company was "left with no alternative but to seek a new dumping site."

HEAVY RAINS have saturated the dump site behind Oddstad School in Pacifica during the past few weeks, and city officials are concerned over the possibility of slides in the area. Public Works Director David Thompson said there is no danger to the school or homes in the neighborhood, however, since the dump site would "spill over in the opposite direction."

Montara 'Anti-dumping' Unit Points to Pacifica

By DON GRIERSON

Leaders of a Montara "anti-dumping" group are pointing to difficulties at the Park Pacifica dump site in Pacifica this week as evidence of "the inadvisability of pursuing plans to make a dump site out of Green Valley."

The dump site in Pacifica has been saturated with water for several weeks because of heavy rains, and represents a landslide hazard because of the added weight, according to Pacifica Public Works Director David Thompson.

Thompson said last week the dumping site, which was originally intended to serve the city until 1972, may have to be closed in the near future.

Meanwhile, the city is engaged in an engineering effort to drain excess water from the dump area, which is located absove the Oddstad School and a residential neighborhood.

The school and homes in the neighborhood are not threatened by the possibility of a slide, however, according to Thompson, "since it would spill in the other direction."

However, there have been complaints about rancid water draining onto the playground at the school, according to Mrs. Florence McKenzie, president of the Save the Scenic Coast Committee of Montara.

Members of Mrs. McKenzie's organization, who have been fighting the proposal to turn Green Valley into a dumping area for the entire county for the past three years, said today the Park Pacifica dump is "the same type operation proposed for our area, and presents the same problems we would experience."

"Supervisor Jean Fassler told us three years ago the Green Valley dump would be a 'very good operation' like the Park Pacifica dump, with a fill-and-cover procedure utilized," Mrs. McKenzie said.

"She said a park would be built over the dump site when it is completed. Pacifica residents were promised the same sort of development, but it now appears the dump site will be unsuitable," she said.

Mrs. McKenzie pointed out other similarities between the two locations, including the fact that both are situated at the bottom of water sheds "and both ultimatelt drain into the ocean."

"The creek through Green Valley flows into the ocean at Grey Whale Cove," she said, "and marine biologists have assured us a garbage dump in the area would ruin the sanctuary for marine life at Moss Beach."

According to a recent study performed by a University of California biologist, the pesticides which would be needed to control rats at the dump "would kill all the marine life in the reefs and pools at Moss Beach," Mrs. McKenzie said.

The proposed dump would also render the beaches unsuitable for use "for several miles in each direction," according to Mrs. McKenzie.

Firm Adds Third Plant

Redwood City's Free-Flow Packaging Corporation, has opened a new production plant at 1404 San Mateo Avenue, South San Francisco.

The company, which manufactures a wide variety of free-flow cushioning materials for defense, industrial and consumer markets, has doubled its production capacity within the last year by addition of the South San Francisco facility and a manufacturing plant in Coatesville, Pa. Home office and main plant are located at 2500 Middlefield Road, Redwood City.

According to Arthur Graham, Free-Flow's president, the 15,000 square foot plant was specially engineered for production of advanced types of free-flow, lightweight cushioning materials which are distributed under the brand name Flo-Pak.

Inequity 'Is Self-Imposed'

Birch Leader Tells Views

Basil I. Gladieux, a former P-TA president, past manager and a dirtctor of the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce and a "member and officer of several civic organizations and committees," this week charged that the "Equalize Education Now" campaign in Pacifica and Daly City is "an effort to encroach on other school districts."

Gladieux, a professional coordinator for the John Birch Society, said in an open letter to the governor, chamber of commerce, Laguna Salada School District and "all interested citizens," that the financial crisis in the schools is the result of and "left-handed liberal permissiveness."

"Those who have been and still are in power, aided by a slanted press, have consistently ignored the efforts and warnings of those who could see what was coming," the "Open letter" states.

"Many self-imposed inequities have placed this city and school district in the pitiful position we all now deplore," he said.

"For these reasons I can see no justification for our encroachment onto the wealth of other areas that have used sound economic judgment in their efforts for balanced development, and I say they should not be penalized for doing their job professionally.

"Until and unless the existing governing bodies accomplish some overdue changes in their philosophy, I must continue to work and vote against any type of additional financing or bonds for that which I do not believe," Gladieux said.

He said there are "several plausible and honorable alternatives" to the proposal for state-wide equalization of school districts.

Among Gladieux' suggested alternatives are a proposal for the elimination of all "frill and experimental programs" in the schools, re-organization of "city and school administration," and establishment of priorities "based on proper use of existing funds and financing procedures."

He also said "strict disciplinary policies must be instituted and maintained," but failed to explain the relationship between discipline and financing in the schools.

TALE OF WILD RIDE

Woman 'Kidnaped' From San Bruno

A 27-year-old Pacifica woman claimed Thursday she was kidnapped in San Bruno while en route to her job as a secretary in Burlingame and forced to drive a man to Watsonville.

According to San Bruno police sources, the woman said she had stopped her car for a traffic signal at Skyline and Sharp Park Road when a man hurriedly got into her car.

About 25 years old, the man said he had to be in Los Angeles by 6 p.m. But he left at Watsonville, the woman said.

Police said the man told the woman repeatedly to "shut up," whenever she asked questions during the trip from San Bruno to Watsonville.

They apparently arrived near Watsonville, with the victim still driving, shortly before 11 a.m. As they approached a construction area, the man—who had not produced a weapon during the journey—jumped from the vehicle and dashed across an open field. He has not been seen since.

The woman contacted Watsonville police, who began a search of the area.

The victim described the man as "nervous."

Police said the woman was nervous, too—and upset—but otherwise unharmed.

Demo Caucus In Pacifica On March 13

Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan announced today that San Mateo County Democrats are being invited to have dinner with San Francisco state Senator George Moscone on Thursday, March 13 at Nick's Rockaway Restaurant in Pacifica. Senator Moscone, the leader of the Democratic Caucus in the state Senate, is heading the drive to elect the Democratic nominee for the vacant state Senate seat in Contra Costa County. Proceeds from the dinner will be used to help in that election.

According to Senator Moscone, the Contra Costa race marks the begininng of the 1970 political campaign. His dinner topic will be "The Rebuilding of the Democratic Party and Democratic Strategy for the 1970s." In accepting the invitation to speak at the dinner, Senator Moscone said "The Contra Costa special election is the key to the resurgence of the Democratic party in California. The state Senate now has 20 Republicans and 19 Democrats. A Democratic vicotry will be the first step on the road back to control of the Legislature in 1970. A loss means the immediate Republican control of the state Senate that would almost certainly carry through 1970 and the reapportionment of all Congressional and state legislative seats in 1971, including at least eight new Congressional seats for California."

Assemblyman Ryan will serve as honorary chairman of the dinner at the request of his fellow legislators and of Northern California Democratic Party chairman, Joe Holsinger. The general co-chairmen of the event will be Ed Tomasello of Daly City, Robert Gomperts of Atherton, and Tony Tarlock of Hillsborough.

The three co-chairmen said the dinner cost will be $15 for single tickets or $25 per couple. The dinner will be at 8 p.m. with no-host cocktails at 7 p.m. Reservations can be made by calling, or by writing Assemblyman Ryan's office at 306 Linden Avenue.

Scholars on Visit To S.S.F. Homes

Two distinguished foreign visitors were recent guests in South San Francisco homes the past few weeks. Both Mrs. Teresa Ruiz of Lima, Peru and Mr. Brahmjits Giel of Punjab State, India were Fulbright scholars completing their year of study in the United States.

Mrs. Ruiz was the guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hale Porter, 814 Miller Avenue. She teaches social studies at a public school in Lima, is forty years of age and has one son, age eight. A typical day of teaching for Mrs. Ruiz starts at 8 a.m. till noon, then a two-hour break then from 2 to 6 p.m. and from there on to an adult school where she teaches until 10 p.m. Most of the adults striving for an education are not in their early twenties but middle-aged Indians who are trying to obtain a high school education.

The Fulbright scholar was one of a group of 27 who were sent to the West Coast after a year of study at Bloomington, Indiana. They came as guests of the San Mateo School District for a three-week "homestay." This enabled Mrs. Ruiz to learn what Americans are like and how American community life evolves.

While in the Bay Area Mrs. Ruiz visited several school districts including Jefferson, Sequoia, Woodside and South San Francisco Unified School District. Upon her return home Mrs. Ruiz said she hopes to go back to school to study for her master's degree and work further in the schools.

The other Fulbright scholar in the South San Francisco area, Brahmjits Giel, was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Arley Tripp of 9 Chico Court. Giel's field is Psychology and with this background he particularly was interested in the gifted and retarded classes in South San Francisco. He managed to visit all the Junior High School, Sunshine Gardens and Avalon school as well as Baden Continuation school.

Our kitchen labor saving devices proved fascinating to the scholar and some of 10 gifts he brought to take home included a refrigerator, a "steam press" (iron) and a set of plastic dishes.

Giel has two children, a boy nine and a girl six. His wife also is a teacher.

(Sugar 'n Spice)

'Vinegar Cookies'?

GOOD MORNING, good cooks.

Stop the music. Stop the presses. And stop baking those Beacon Hill cookies that appeared in last week's column. Practically every error that could be made, was made in that recipe last week. Fortunately, the fact that the amounts were repeated in the method caused many of you good cooks to call into The Post and ask for the corrected version. Remember there is always a carbon of the original copy at The Post, and Beverly is ready and willing to assist you.

BEACON HILL COOKIES

- 1 cup semi-sweet chocolate bits
- 2 egg whites
- dash of salt
- ½ cup sugar
- ½ teaspoon vinegar
- ½ teaspoon vanilla
- ¾ cup chopped walnuts

Melt the cup of chocolate bits over hot water. Beat the two egg whites with the dash of salt, until foamy. Gradually add the one-half cup sugar, beating well, then continue beating until stiff peaks form. Beat the half teaspoon each vanilla and vinegar into the egg whites.

Fold the melted chocolate and the three-fourths cup chopped walnuts into the beaten egg whites. Drop by teasponfuls onto foil-covered cookie sheets, about two inches apart. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 10 minutes. Remove immediately from cookie sheet and cool. Makes 36 cookies. NOTE: You may sprinkle more chopped nuts over the top of the cookies before baking.

KEEPING with the practice of Lenten suggestions, this casserole of potatoes and tuna would make a tasty Friday meal.

SCALLOPED POTATOES WITH TUNA

- 4 medium potatoes
- 2 cups milk
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- A few grains of pepper
- 1 7-ounce can of tuna, flaked
- ½ cup onions, thinly sliced

Peel and steam the four potatoes in a half- to two-thirds-cup water for 15 minutes. Drain and cool, reserving potato water. Add to the potato water enough milk to make two cups. Melt the two tablespoons butter or margarine over low heat. Stir in the two tablespoons flour, the teaspoon mustard, three-fourths teaspoon salt, and pepper. Add the milk-water combination all at once and stir until smooth. Bring to boil, stirring constantly.

In a two-quart casserole, lightly greased, arrange thinly sliced potaoes in alternate layers with the one can flaked tuna and the one-half cup onions. Pour the sauce over all. Bake covered at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Remove cover and continue baking 10 to 15 minutes longer or until browned. Serves six.

HAPPINESS AND JOY! Here is a new way to prepare chicken that is delicious and eye-appealing, too. Mrs. Valda Schaefer who lives in San Francisco served this recently and it was so good that I asked for the recipe to share with all you good cooks.

This chicken is over-fried, which eliminates the bother and mess of frying on top of the stove. In coating the chicken Valda used one of the prepared mixes, which makes the dish even easier to prepare. In case you are of the "Please Mother, I'd rather do it myself" school, we will include the amounts for making your own flouring mixture.

CHICKEN SUPREME

- 1 three-pound frying chicken, cut into serving pieces
- 1 cup flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- dash of pepper
- ¼ teaspoon garlic salt
- 3-4 teaspoon paprika
- ½ teaspoon onion salt
- ¼ cup melted margarine

Combine the cup of flour, one-half teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, one-fourth teaspoon garlic salt, three-fourths teaspoon paprika and one-half teaspoon onion salt.

Dip the pieces of chicken into the one-fourth cup melted butter and then in floured mixture. Place skin down in a shallow baking dish. If there's any butter left, drizzle it over the chicken. Bake in a 400-degree oven for about an hour.

During the baking process prepare this delicious fruit sauce to serve over the chicken.

FRUIT SAUCE

- 1 can pineapple chunks, 13¼-oz. size
- ½ cup orange juice
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- ¼ cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- ½ teaspoon curry powder
- 1 tablespoon chopped preserved ginger
- 1 teaspoon grated orange rind
- ½ green pepper, cut in strips

Drain the pineapple. In a saucepan, combine the pineapple juice, one-half cup orange juice, two tablespoons lemon juice, one-fourth cup sugar, one tablespoon cornstarch and one-half teaspoon curry powder. Cook, stirring constantly, until thick and clear. Stir in the one teaspoon grated orange rind, one tablespoon chopped preserved ginger, green pepper and pineapple chunks.

Pour this fruit sauce over the chicken during the last 15 minutes of baking time.

Hot, fluffy rice is a perfect accompaniment to this colorful and tasty entree.

LITTLE CHILDREN:

Tendency to Make Us Feel Real

By DOROTHY REDMOND
Jefferson High

That "little children have a tendency to make us feel more real" was the general feeling of 11 students from Jefferson High School while experiencing a sociological field study as part of their studies in Sociology taught by Alton Griffin.

Armed with an idea and the desire to expand textbook knowledge to a "real" situation, class representatives and Griffin contacted the local center of the Office of Economic Opportunity in Daly City.

After being referred to the Toyland Nursery, a private child-care center, at 474 San Diego Street, Daly City, the socio-field experience was begun.

There, through observation and participation, the intra-action of groups and individuals to groups were studied.

Since the average age of the children was 4½ years, the group and individual behavior was open and completely honest, affording a "Case study" approach to be used.

Patterns of behavior, based on recurrent responses and "happenings," were observed; it seemed as if the group as a whole had a mind of its own. From laughter to restlessness was transferred or communicated from individual to group and from group to group. The class observed the processes of "socialization" taught by the nursery staff. It was an educational place.

All of the children enrolled at Toyland are learning something older people have forgotten or "did not learn; that is, getting along with each other without hatred or bitterness.

TERRA NOVA TOPICS . . .

By Alice Reichert

Seven members of T.N.'s International Relations Club were involved in a Model UN at Berkeley Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, February 13, 14, and 15.

Stephanis Pringle, Dave Limcacos, Margaret Montenegro, Kurt Savage, Gary Hennigh, Kevin Brown, and Debbie Sylvester represented Terra Nova as the Nation of Liberia for the weekend experience. Schools from Bakersfield, California to the Oregon border participated, composing 130 nations in all. Some of these nations, such as China, were represented at the Model UN to observe, rather than participate, because they are in reality non-members of the UN.

Five large committees were formed to discuss particular world-wide problems; population, armed intervention, etc. One resolution was taken from each committee and the five resolutions were discussed at the UN General Assembly. They then voted on the resolutions.

Assistant to the Secretary General of Pakistan then spoke to the students.

The purposes of this annual Model United Nations were outlined:

(1) To learn of the general functions of the UN.

(2) To learn the art of diplomacy, and to develop one's power of persuasiveness.

(3) To meet different people.

The Industrial Education Departments' "Outstanding Students" were presented for the month of January to Larry Weber, Woodshop; Gary Cushing, Auto Shop; Tony Norwood, Mechanical Drawing; Wayne Beaver, Electric Shop.

Awards are given on the basis of initiative, academic achievement, the ability to think through problems in terms of class work, with both instructor and fellow students, and enthusiasium shown in industrial education classes.

Drug Abuse Forums for Adults

The Jefferson Union High School District, Adult Division, will present a drug abuse forum on three consecutive Thursday evenings—March 13, 20, and 27, from 7:30 to 10 p.m. at Westmoor High School in Daly City.

On March 13, "Aspects of a Drug Culture" will be presented through the experiences of a high school experimenter and the interpretations of high scool students, as seen and heard through today's art forms.

New Bruno Plans For Teen-agers

San Bruno is taking first steps toward a new program for teen-agers, particularly those in the Crestmoor High School area, as part of the city's regular rereation program.

First phases will include three or four major areas, it was decided at a meeting of municipal and teen-ager representatives this week.

One will be the establishment of specific arts and crafts classes for teeners at Crestmoor.

One will be the establishment of specific arts and crafts classes for teeners at Crestmoor.

Another will be a series of Symposiums or panel discussion-type gatherings according to Councilman George Corey, who was among those meeting with the group of teen-agers.

The teeners would have speakers and groups to discuss subjects of interest to them.

"And they also want to invite the community," Corey recalled.

Asked whether the "community" would be invited to talk or to listen, Corey said:

"They want to talk. They want confrontation. They want exchange of ideas."

The third area is drama workshop.

The city is attempting to find a way to put into effect "the jam-session type thing," Corey added, where the teener could go to dance or to just listen to music.

Corey, Maurice Hamilton of the City Council and Mike Kiley, a recreation supervisor, were the municipal officials meeting with teeners Marsha Saunders, Kaye Sharkey, Mike Sharkey and Sharon Powers.

The Park, Beach and Recreation Department approved the plans.

A Trip to Carmel For Justwed Pair

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Threlkeld (Lynn Paula Truitt) now are living in San Bruno after their recent marriage at the Aldersgate Methodist Church.

The Rev. Gilbert Vieira officiated, and the couple met their guests at the Brisbane home of his prents, Dr. and Mrs. Salvator J. Guardina. Lynn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Truitt.

Lynn recited her vows in a floor-length gown of white satin with an Empire waist and long sleeves. Seed pearl detail accented the sleeves and bodice, and she carried white roses and stephanotis.

Jo Marie Frank was the maid of honor for Lynn, and Lynda Selaya, sister of the benedict, the bridesmaid. They both wore ruby red velvet gowns and carried pink roses.

Kale Hudson acted as best man for Charles, and Peter Selaya was the usher for his brother.

They honeymooned in Carmel.

MEMOS FROM A DECORATOR'S NOTEBOOK — PART II

In a recent column, we talked about fixing up your bedroom, and we promised future columns of ideas on decorating other rooms.

Today, we continue this series within our weekly column by bringing you some thoughts on how to improve a living room with the right kind of tables.

If you're tired of that old, large cocktail or coffee table in front of your sofa, you might want to try a few smaller tables. You can get a "new look" in your living room this way, and you might find this "opens up" your room, giving you more mobility.

One effective way to cover a bare wall space is to use a console or wall table there. That can be both decorative and useful.

If you're buying a table to be used next to a particular chair, be sure the table is the right height so the person using it doesn't have to reach way down or way up.

Have you ever considered using a table whose specific job is to hold flowers or some other decorative element. This can add a beautiful setting to your room.

To see all shapes, sizes, and kinds of living room tables and ideas we invite you to come in and browse.

Rash of Burglaries Sweeps Daly City

A rash of petty auto burglaries swept through the Hillside-Moltke Street section of Daly City Sunday with the largest loss reported at $100.

Police said reports of the car thefts began pouring in shortly after 1 p.m. and continued on through the afternoon.

In all cases the vehicles were ransacked and small items, including a man's umbrella, were stolen along with two car ra-

The victims included: Keller Wells, 119 East Moltke (radio valued at $40); Garry F. Kearns, 119 East Moltke; Steven R. Camdent, 119 East Moltke (umbrella); William Stanivillo, 115 East Moltke; Edwin Duncan, 187 East Moltke (radio valued at $100); Vera McLaren, 272 Abbot; John H. Jansen, 685 Hillside (1969 auto license tab); and Sandra Cebreiros, 272 Abbot.

All of the burglaries were inside open carports, police said.

Bay Regional Gov't Legislation Proposed

A regional government of the Bay Area, including San Mateo County, was proposed to the state Legislature Monday. It would be financed by a tax raise affecting all communities involved.

The legislation was the product of a long study by the bipartisan Joint Committee on Regional Organization, and covers at least 90 cities in eight counties, according to Associated Press.

Other counties involved include all or parts of Marin, Napa, San Francisco, Solano, Contra Costa, Alameda and Santa Clara.

The sponsor of the proposal, Democratic Assemblyman John T. Knox of Richmond, said he followed advice to "make no small plans."

His paln "provides an agency which will be responsible to the people of the Bay Area; which problems which are genuinely regional; and which can plan effectively to deal with new regional problems which will confront us as more and more people decide to live and work around the shores of the San Francisco Bay."

To pay for the regional government, Knox called for a one per cent surtax on the personal income of those in the area, and the same tax on income of businesses in the region.

Creation of the agency would depend on majority approval of all voters in the area in the 1970 primary election. A 36-member governing board would be chosen from districts on an equal-population basis. The terms would be four years, with half the board elected every two years.

An administrative officer to handle the day-to-day operation would be chosen, along with a staff.

The main task would be preparation of a general plan to guide development of the burgeoning region centered around the bay, which already has been granted a regional agency to control filling of the shrinking body of water.

The government would be given the authority over plans:

—For the conservation, development, management and utilization of San Francisco Bay and an adjacent shoreline "band."

—For development and management of an integrated system of transportation including freeways, highways, streets, bridges, tunnels, mass and rapid transit systems, airports and eaports.

—For the integrated development, management and control of pollutants and waste materials discharged into the land, air and water.

—For the preservation, development, management and use of regional parks, open space and other natural resources.

—For the coordination and planning of major utility facilities.

He Got A Good Fright

All a potential burglar got from the Fred Hauptli home at 56 Belford Street in Daly City Sunday was a good fright.

Police said the 91-year-old Hauptli greeted the burglar in the kitchen, after the suspect had crawled through an open window.

The startled suspect saw Hauptli and streaked out a door, hopped into a car and fled the scene.

Coast Water 'Stall' Hit By Nick Gust

Pacifica Mayor Nick Gust this week expressed disappointment over a lack of progress in one of his pet projects, a "feasibility study" into the possibility of the city taking over operations of the North Coast County Water District.

Guest first proposed that the city consider taking over the water service as a means of gaining additional revenue and "providing better service" nearly a year ago.

"A nearly as I can determine, there has been very little progress," he said.

Guest has instructed city staff members to "seek an immediate reply from the water board on our report concerning this matter."

According to the mayor, there was an agreement between the city and the water district involving a "report from the city and a rebuttal by the district."

"We have filed our report, but have not received their answering rebuttal," Gust said.

At Monday's council meeting, the mayor indicated directors of the water district are stalling on the feasibility study "because they are considering a merger with the Coast Water District in Half Moon Bay."

Gust said the matter of a possible consolidation of the water districts was discussed at a meeting between the two district boards earlier this month.

"The city was not invited to the meeting," he added.

According to the mayor, the NCCWD board members, who are opposed to his proposal that the city assume control of the district, are considering the consolidation move to block the city's plans.

However, Harland Hill, manager of the water district serving Pacifica, said no move toward consolidation with the Half Moon Bay district is currently under consideration.

"We considered launching a study into the possibility of such a merger about five years ago, but abandoned the project after San Francisco engaged in an area-wide study to determine how much water would be available to us," Hill said.

The San Francisco study is still under way, according to the manager.

The meeting between officials of the two water districts earlier this month was called to discuss Housing and Urban Development grants, Hill said, and city officials were not invited "because the business discussed did not involve the city."

The NCCWD is seeking a grant for construction of underground reservoirs, and the Half Moon Bay district is applying for funds for an engineering study.

Hill also differed with the mayor on the matter of the "feasibility study" under way.

"We never agreed to provide a rebuttal to the city's report," he said. "This was to have been a joint study between the city staff and the water district staff."

Hill said he is currently preparing a comprehensive report on the matter.

He was critical of the report submitted to the district by City Manager C. W. Masonheimer, stating the report was "perfunctory, and contained very few facts."

Councilman Harland Minshew, who has shown little enthusiasm for the proposal that the city "take over" the water district, was also critical of Masonheimer's report.

At Monday's council meeting, Minshew said the manager "failed to follow our instructions in preparing the report."

According to the councilman, Masonheimer was instructed to "conduct a thorough study, with the assistance of the city attorney and the director of public works."

"The report submitted is primarily the manager's appraisal, and was prepared without much consultation with the specialists," Minshew said.

Any move on the part of the city to take over the water service would have to be approved by the board of supervisors.

The measure would then be placed upon the ballot for a referendum.

WORKING ON PLANS for ORT Sunday on March 9 are (from left) Mrs. Philip Sonenstein, Ort Day chairman for the Northern Peninsula Region; Mrs. Philip Kear, national vice president for re-enrollment; and Mrs. Paul Radcliffe, president for the Northern California Peninsula Region. On March 9, women of the Peninsula will be informed of the ORT program and be given the opportunity to join the Jewish women's organization. ORT maintains a network of 600 installations in 22 countries with an enrollment of 50,000 students. Women's American ORT is a mass membership organization of 80,000 women who support the program.

Injunction Halts County Food Program

A temporary injunction stopping the county from proceeding with plans for a food management program was issued "reluctantly" last week by Superior Judge Robert F. Kane.

The jurist said his reluctance was based on consideration of "benefits to the general welfare which would seem to flow from improved food services at lower cost." He found that the county had failed to comply with a requirement of state law in setting up the program, however, and issued the temporary injunction for that reason.

"In so doing," Kane said in a memorandum decision, "the court believes that the procedural deficiencies . . . can quickly be cured and it would be in the interests of justice that this be done."

Deputy District Attorney James W. Foley, asked to comment, said he had not seen the decision but was sure the county would take the necessary steps to cure the defect as soon as possible.

Opening of bids from contractors to take over food management services at the various county institutions has been held up before the County Board of Supervisors for a month following the filing of a lawsuit by the County Employees Association.

The association contended that the action would mean the loss of civil service jobs and a "first step in emasculating the civil service system itself." County officials denied that any jobs would be lots and said the contract proposal would provide better food services at lower cost.

Judge Kane ruled that the action of the supervisors in calling for bids was not illegal, as contended by the association, nor were the jobs of county employes in jeopardy or their rights threatened.

The jurist said, however, that the county had failed to comply with a new state law that requires notice to be given to employes in jeopardy or their making major changes in working conditions.

Gun Charge Jails S.F. Driver in D.C.

A San Francisco man, stopped by a Daly City policeman for an alleged traffic violation, Wednesday was arrested on charges of car theft, posession of marijuana and possession of a concealed weapon.

Police in Daly City said Joseph Peter Sozzi, Jr., 28, of 319 Hale Street, San Francisco, was arrested at 9:40 p.m. by patrolman Wendell Barnes.

Patrolman Barnes, stopping the car for a traffic violation, learned the car had been stolen out of Burlingame about a week ago, authorities said.

He also alleged that Sozzi possessed some marijuana and a 22 caliber automatic pistol.

Seven Granted Business OK

Authorization to issue business licenses to seven persons was granted to Daly City finance director Robert Hossli by the city council Monday.

The business license applicants were:

Bilafer, M.D., 25 San Fernando Way; Daly City Locksmith, 6692 Mission; Bob Britt Painting Co., 1991 Junipero Serra Boulevard, and Northern Bail Bond Agency, 586 Clarinada Avenue.

READY FOR LAUNCHING—Quentin Tavares, operator of Pedro Point boathouse and private ramp, cleans up ramp after storms subsided last weekend. So much debris had floated in from storms, that with minor damage to ramp and dock facility, an erroneous report was put out that storms had destroyed the facility. Tavares was quick to point out that his rock foundation and bulkheads were intact and his ramp in shape for peak of salmon season, after he had replaced a couple of pilings. After 80 feet of stringers are oiled, boats are slid down the ways; they are recovered by a hook, tossed to the boat, and then the boat winched up the ramp.

At Pedro Point

That Boat Ramp's Very Much Alive

That Pedro Point boathouse and launching ramp was not destroyed after all — in fact it was very much alive today.

The Times erroneously carried a report that the battering of the month-long storms had washed away the facility.

What the reporter saw were some pilings broken loose by the storm and a lot of flotsom and jetsam deposited around the ramp and dock, according to its operator, Quentin Tavares.

Tavares said late last week that it is now "in perfect shape" for the salmon season.

The storm brought so much debris to the area that Mrs. Tavares reported that even an old washing machine turned up at one point in the ramp area.

Tavares also cleared up the mystery as to why San Mateo County boatowners have been saying there is no available launching ramp on the coast, when his ramp has been in operation for years.

Below the Road

The Pedro Point ramp is not directly accessible by road, and cannot be used to launch large pcannot be used to launch large private craft, he said. Each boat has been brought down by hand, or built nearby, and once it is there, it stays, except for sea jaunts, he explained.

Tavares keeps 25 privately-owned boats in his boathouse; and he rents another dozen to those proficient with an oar.

They must be proficient, he says, because once slid down the 80-foot oiled stringers into the water, the fisherman must row his boat through 150 feet of surf to calmer water.

"I can tell when they step into the boat whether or not they know how to handle it, and to row," he says. And if they can't, then out they come, until someone teaches them sufficiently, Tavares added.

To return, the fisherman backs in, catches a hook on a line and attaches it to the boat. It is then winched up the ramp.

Many of the boats Taveres built himself. They are 14 to 16 feet long, specially-built for the ocean conditions — somewhat like a dory.

Renters and owners use motors from 3½ to 16 horsepower, and catch salmon two or more miles out. Average is seven miles.

Tavares and his wife acquired the boathouse and ramp three years ago. It was in rundown condition, he says, and at that time there were only ten boats. He put in new pilings, rocks, bulkheads and stringers and built the facility up to full use.

He said that the storm was no worse than usual winter storms, and that each year he makes some minor repairs.

Renters come from as far away as Fresno, Stockton, Sacramento and San Jose; but most of the owners are old hands in the area, living either in the county or in San Francisco.

The boathouse is 25 feet below the dike of the old Ocean Shore Railroad at Pedro Point, and fronts directly on the ocean.

Cub Scouts Theme Is Indian Lore

Indian Lore, one of the most popular Cub Scout program themes, is scheduled for March, according to John Montgomery, scout commissioner of the San Mateo County Council, Boy Scouts of America.

In San Mateo County 159 Cub Scout packs will include Indian crafts, games, arts, dances, costumes and stories, as well as the study of specific tribes in their weekly den meetings. The monthly pack meeting of each pack, which is sponsored by a religious, civic, school, or other community group, will be a ceremonial night featuring a program related to Indian life and Indian-type ceremonies for the presentation of advancements awards.

"The most important part of the Indian Lore theme," Montgomery explained, "is that the things the Cub Scouts will do will be authentic and 'not just playing Indian'."

The older Boy Scouts in March will follow the theme Emergency Preparedness, with the month's highlight being "scouts to the rescue," Montgomery said.

St. Thomas More Loses To OLPH '5'

Marian Council 3773, Knights of Columbus, held their Tenth Annual Invitational Basketball Tournament at the Daly City War Memorial Gymnasium.

The first pairings matched Our Lady of Perpetual Help against Saint Thomas More and Our Lady of Mercy against Holy Angels, with OLPH and Holy Angels the winners in the first two games.

In the semi-final game to decide third and fourth places OLM defeated Saint Thomas More, 31 to 18.

In the championship game, OLPH defeated Holy Angels 48 to 22.

In an exhibition game Marian Council 3773 defeated U.S.F. Council 4394 81 to 56.

Trophy was awarded to each team according to their ranking in the tournament. In addition, trophies were awarded to the following players for their placement on the All-Star Team:

D. Sims, OLPH, T. Gannon, OLPH, P. Nannim, Holy Angels, Welsh, OLM, Curry, St. Thomas More.

THIRD IN RELAYS

CSM Spike Squad Starts Dual Meets

College of San Mateo's well-balanced track and field forces open the 1969 dual meet season Friday afternoon at Chabot after finishing a strong third in the conference relays over the weekend.

Merritt took team honors with 95 points in Saturday's meet at CSM, followed by Laney with 82, CSM with 70½, and defending relays champ San Jose CC with 52½.

The Bulldogs got a team and individual victory in the pole vault where Ron Coleman's state-leading 14-7 mark led Don Nelson (13-0) and Florito Flors (12-6) to an easy 38-0 aggregate victory.

In the discus, the Bulldog trio of Gerry Fogel (151-7), Lou Nava (146-1), and Sam Jordan (136-5) totaled 434-1 — nearly 50 feet better than second-place Merritt. GGC Champ Fogel had to settle for second in the individual marks, however, to Foothill's Winston Landes (155-11).

CSM showed real strength in the weight events, taking second in the shot put relay as Tino Salzano's 45-6 was the second best individual effort. The Bulldogs were runners-up to Merritt in the 480 shuttle hurdle realy.

In the only individual events, CSM got thirds in the 120 high hurdles from Tim Sershan (15.6) and in the 100 from Bill Hatcher (9.8). Merritt won both with Eric Barfield running 14.6 and Norbert Payton a swift 9.6.

Merritt also won the 440, mile, and sprint medley relays on the track, plus the long jump relay. CSM was third in the latter event.

The Bulldogs placed in all but two of the meet's 16 events.

Bulldogs Finish 3rd

Aided by a host of flying elbows, Laney College replaces College of San Mateo in second place in the final Golden Gate Conference standings.

The Eagles, unhindered by repeated technical fouls, on Friday edged visiting College of San Maeto, 60-58, to finish second in the GGC with a 10-4 mark.

CSM fell to third place at 9-5 and have an over-all mark of 17-11—on a schedule that included eight of the state's top twenty ranked teams.

League champion City College of San Francisco (12 - 2) faces a "challenge" from new Camino Norte Conference champ, Contra Costa, in a state play-off game tonight at the Foothill College gym in Los Altos Hills at 8 o'clock.

Ram Coach Sid Phelan didn't use any of his starters last night as CCSF went through the routine of closing its league schedule by losing to San Jose CC, 77-71. It was San Francisco's first home league loss in four years — dating back to 1965 when Contra Costa tipped the Rams on a last second shot and represented the GGC in the state tourney, which was held at CSM that season.

Via its win over the CCSF reserves, San Jose also finished at 9-5 and tied the Bulldogs for third place.

Bernard Dulaney's 15-foot jumper with 13 seconds left gave Laney the runner-up spot in last night's Oakland Auditorium battle.

CSM had led throughout most of the roughly played game. The Bulldogs bothered Laney with their slow down tactics that resulted in a 30-20 half-time advantage after the Eagles went scoreless the last five minutes of the period.

After the intermission, Laney picked at both the Bulldogs and their lead. Eagle center Mike Douglas was removed for elbowing CSM center Steve Connolly in the mouth and his front line-mate Otis Allison fouled out on personals shortly after having his second technical violation — this one for hanging on the rim after a dunk.

The latter move seemed to fire up the Eagles, who proceeded to knot the score in the final five minutes and things seesawed from there.

Laney lost its third player—league scoring leader guard Mike Hill — who picked up his fifth personal and a technical foul at the same time.

But CSM was also in trouble with Connolly also fouling out and guard Lou Carbo and forward Mark Wilson each carrying four fouls.

With the score knotted at 58-all in the last minute of play, CSM came up with the ball but had it stolen away by Laney — setting up Dulaney's winning bucket.

CSM set up for a last shot after a time out but forward Steve Carmine's drive through the lane was unsuccessful although CSM got the ball out of bounds under the bucket with three seconds left.

The pass in came to Gregg Morasci, who couldn't completely control the ball in the melee under the basket. The ball popped out of bounds and was awarded to Laney and it was all over.

Hill, who was held to nine points, lost the league scoring title to San Jose's Larry Carter — who netted 36 points against CCSF.

Fresno City College will host the 1969 California State Juinor College basketball tournament Thursday through Saturday at Fresno's new Selland Arena Convention Center. Winner of tonight's CCSF-Contra Costa game will face Los Angeles CC of the Western State Conference in a first-round game Thursday at 5 p.m.

Little Change

IF YOU'RE AMONG those who think there has been any intrinsic change in baseball in the past 70 or 80 years, you need only to read the very first edition of the legendary Bible of Baseball, the March 17, 1886 edition of The Sporting News, to realize how wrong you are.

At just about that time, the teams were reporting to their version of spring raining in such exotic spots as Charlston, South Carolina, Hot Springs, Arkansas and Chicago, and although nobody had yet heard of the World Series, or Louisville Sluggers, or Babe Ruth, Ty Cobb, Walter Johnson, or the Hall of Fame, there was even then complaints about scheduling, traveling guarantees, sore arms, athletes who had spent their winter drinking and playing pool, gripes about training at all, and personal gossip which would put Gloria Graham to shame. And the Mets, as usual, were involved with mediocre players.

To quote from a completely subjective "news" story on the front page (even in those days, sports pages hadn't heard of objective journalism):

"As your readers must know by this time, Brooklyn will have Burch (Pacini's Note: In those days, The Sporting News hardly ever recognized first names) despite the fact that the Metropolitans made most determined efforts to have that player's release with them ratified. . . .

And, in connection with the Burch case, allow me to express my surprise at two clubs making such heroic efforts to secure such a player. Burch is regarded as a fine fellow by those who know him, but fine fellows do not always make fine players (Note: "Nice guys finish last"); and I am told that this is especially true in Burch's case. . . .

"CERTAIN IT IS THAT Burch did not last year make nearly so good an average either in the field or at bath as Eddie Kennedy whom the Mets released.

"I think it equally certain that he cannot compare with Kennedy either in left field or the batsman's box. Then you ask me why did the Mets release Kennedy for Burch, and why did the Brooklyns seek to secure Burch?

"Well that is easily answered. In the first place an element in the Mets is inimical to Kennedy, and Burch was the only individual to be secured readily. Then apart from that the new managers of the Mets are desirous of impressing the public with the idea that they are doing all in their power to strengthen the team.

"They are to be sure obtaining new material — new blood they call it — and what is new is thought to be best in New York. But why did Brooklyn want Burch? . . . because the Mets did. It is a question between the two clubs as to which will obtain the most advertising and subsequently the most money . . ."

Like all publications of today, The Sporting News was loaded with advertisements (catcher's masks cost $2, custom made shoes $7-$15, and you could see Japanese Female Minstrels — top price — for 75 cents).

The contemporary Sporting News has made a big deal over its fairly recent trend toward covering ALL sports, rather than just baseball, as it had done for years. But that first Sporting news carried not only baseball news, but news on duck hunting, handmade saddles, dogs, billiards, bicycling, Sumo wrestling, escapades of "highwaymen," and even news and reviews from the entertainment world . . . and yes, even poetry.

AS WE SAID, there was gossip. Among the milder items was one indicating that Adrian "Cap" Anson (now a Hall of Famer and then the Ruth, Cobb, et al of his day) was a pool shark and that one Dickerson, "has quit his convivial habits . . ."

It seems that the entire Chicago club was "convivial," a conclusion which might be derived from the following article:

"Manager Spalding . . . is now completely wrapped up in a new plan. March 13 he will start from Chicago for Hot Springs, Ark., with all the members of the club. There he will boil them down for two weeks.

" 'It's a great scheme,' said Mr. Spalding . . . 'I wonder what ever made me think of it? All the boys are enthusiastic about it and all want to go. I have written to a professor down there, and he is making arrangements to build a vat in which he can boil the whole nine at once.

"You see, the beauty of this scheme is that I get a brand new nine on April 1. I boil out all the alcoholic microbes which may have impregnated the systems of these men during the winter . . . Once I get the microbes out, the danger of relapse is slight. If that don't work I'll send them over to Paris next year, and have them innoculated by Pasteur. . . .

" 'Now there's Secretary Brown. He's getting altogether too plump. I've been thinking the matter over for the last few days, and have concluded to take him down and throw him in the vat along with the boys. I have offered to bet the professor four to one that my aggregation beats the record at the Hot Springs, and stands more boiling than any other aggregation that ever struck the place.' "

All, however, wasn't frivolity in The Sporting News. There were some items of historical note, for instance a story about a small sporting goods store that Spalding had opened, and this item:

'Mike Kelly (Note: He is the Kelly of 'Slide, Kelly, Slide' fame) has given Sam Morton's sliding-pad his hearty indorsement. This little invention is to enable runners to steal bases without injury to their cuticle."

Ah yes, it was a glorious day, when rumps were called cuticles and managers accepted alcoholism as merely a temporary winter problem which could be boiled out in a vat.

What we like most about that era of The Sporting News, however, was that sports writers and managers hadn't yet learned the cliches. Not once did we find a "can hit the old apple," a "one of the greatest," a "public relations-wise," a "good leather," no, not even a "we came to play" or a "all positions are open," or not even a "any team can win this year."

As we said at the beginning of the piece . . . baseball hasn't changed. Only, we might add, the way it's marketed.

LOCAL NOTES: Better late than never. We finally ran down the doings this past football season of ex-Jefferson High, San Francisco State star Ed Larios. He spent the year on the Atlanta taxi squad and is supposedly slated for a real shot at the Falcon split end slot next season. When at State he played the unfamiliar tight end position (because of the presence of Joe Koontz, who was a promising Giant rookie end last year), and while he was outstanding, he wasn't able to show off his full potential. For one thing, it was said, he just wasn't quite strong enough a blocker for that spot. He's one of those guys who's a little too small for tight end, but a good, very swift, exceptionally big split end.

Another former Jeff boy making good at S.F. State is Dennis Jew, a Gator senior who has come on to make important contributions on the best five in the Far Western Conference.

Big Air Cargo Firm Lands In SSF Park

One of the world's largest air freight companies, Jet Air Freight, Inc., will establish its regional headquarters warehouse on Allerton Avenue in the Cabot, Cabot & Forbes Office, Industrial Park in South San Francisco, it has been announced. The CC&F Park is just north of San Francisco International Airport.

David Meyer, JAF'S regional manager, explained that the company would take 15,000 square feet in the building at 380 Allerton. The move will make the CC&F Park the distribution center for warehousing and export of IBM equipment, for which JAF is the exclusive carrier.

The company is the 50th to move into the CC&F Park and may well be the first of a series of airport-oriented companies to settle there. As Meyer explained it "This is a natural location for us. At the airport itself the airlines are placing their cargo buildings further and further north and here we will be only about ten minutes from the airport."

Air Agencies, Inc., which handles all JAF trucking, also will be quartered in the Jet Air Freight space.

Paul Cramer, of Damon Raike & Co., was the broker for the transaction.

VOLUNTEERS of the School Finance Strategy Committee in Pacifica manned information booths at all seven shopping centers in the city Saturday, in an effort to gain support for the "Equalize Education Now" campaign. Truck Laws Challenged In Brisbane

A lawsuit challenging Brisbane's trucking laws was filed yesterday in Superior Court in Redwood City.

The action, filed by the Lone Star Cement Company, follows the adoption by the City Council February 10 of a resolution restricting trucks weighing more than three tons to Bayshore Boulevard.

Lone Star is the lessee and operator of a hot mix plant and quarry known as PCA No. 130 on Crocker lands outside the city limits. It is necessary to use trucks exceeding three tons to carry on business, the suit states, and, if the ordinance is carried out the trucks will have no way of getting to Bayshore Boulevard.

The present haul route for Lone Star trucks leaving the quarry and plant is on Macco Road to the city limits, then on San Francisco and Visitacion avenues and Old County Road in Brisbane to Bayshore Boulevard.

Not Guilty Plea In Rape Case

A young Pacifica man charged with rape in connection with an incident which allegedly occurred in a parked car in front of his house Friday night entered a plea of not guilty Monday in North County Municipal Court.

Jack A. Sullins, 22, of 648 Southmoor Drive, Pacifica, was arraigned on a charge of forcible rape and another sex offense after a 20-year-old San Francisco woman with whom he has been "casually acquainted" for two years filed charges with police.

Bail was set at $2,500 Monday, and a preliminary hearing was scheduled for March 14.

According to police reports, the alleged rape occurred when the young woman drove Sullins home from a date during which the two attended a San Francisco party.

Sullins and the young woman had been acquainted two years ago, according to police, and the acquaintance was renewed last week when she picked him up hitchhiking in San Francisco.

The girl agreed to the Friday night date, the police report said, and the two attended a party in the Haight-Ashbury section of San Francisco, along with another couple.

Set Is Stolen

A portable television set, valued at $150, was taken from the Diane Frink apartment at 900 San Antonio, San Bruno, Wednesday police reported.

2 Hurt As Car Hits Pole

Two San Francisco residents were injured this morning when their car slammed into a utility pole on Mission Street in Daly City.

Rushed to Mary's Help Hospital with facial lacerations, possible neck injuries and concussion, was Irene Pickett, 22, driver of the vehicle, and a male companion Ronald Jacob Van Dette, 25.

CSM Matmen Finish 1st In Section

College of San Mateo today reigns as Northern California section JC wrestling champion and will have six men in the state tournament this weekend.

At Sierra College Saturday, the Bulldogs scored in all but three of the individual weight classes to outpoint Golden Gate Conference champion Diablo Valley, 73-70.

Ken Wright advanced his season record to 29-1 by winning the 130 pound class for CSM. But 115 pounder Armand Brett, MVP in the GGC tourney last week, had to settle for second place to old nemisis Bernie Olmos of Foothill. Olmos also defeated another San Mateo JC district wrestler, Kunio Boydston of Canada College, en route to the title. Camino Horte Conference champ Boydston placed third and his Colt team was eighth in team scoring with 11 points.

Bulldog 177 pounder Marc Likens also grabbed a second place — behind tourney MVP Ron Lucas of Hartnell. Likens had two pins en route to the finals, where he lost a 17-5 decision to Lucas.

Grant Connell was third for the Mateans at 137, Bob Paiz fourth at 123, and Ralph Vandro fourth at 167.

They'll all make the trip to San Bernardino Valley College Friday and Saturday where the top four place winners from each of four sectional meets will compete.

Fourth NPL Title In Row for SSF

By JERRY LITTRELL
Post Sports Writer

A domination of prep basketball in the North Peninsula League which began back in 1963) continued uninterrupted Wednesday when the South San Francisco Warriors copped their fourth straight NPL title.

The crown was won when the Warriors defeated a gallant Westmoor Ram team, 67-63. The win was the eleventh in league play against one loss for Bill Purcell's high-geared unit and it gave them a final one-game bulge over the Jefferson Indians.

In other NPL action, another "first" was recorded when Half Moon Bay won its first game of the league season, 70-64, over Oceana while Jefferson's last gasp effort against El Camino gave the Indians an easy 86-67 victory.

South City became the final entrant in this year's Central Coast Sectional play-offs with the victory. The Warriors will play the winner of Saturday's Aragon-Riordan game for the right to go to the finals next weekend in San Jose.

"I can't say enough about the players and what a fine season-long effort they have put out," Purcell said, relaxing after the game. "We didn't play exceptionally well on defense against Westmoor but you have to give Tony Giammona and the Rams a great deal of credit. They didn't lay down and quit. They showed a great deal of team pride. They wanted the game as much as we did and really fought hard."

It was a strange game in many respects. So patient was the Ram offense that Westmoor got 16 of its 22 buckets on lay-ins. So quick and penetrating was the Warrior offense that 13 of their 25 buckets came on lay-ins. All in all, 29 of the 47 field goals were lay-ins, an amazing percentage.

For three quarters, the first, second and fourth, the game was fairly even. But the Warriors, always seeming to have a productive third period scoring-wise, built up a 12-point lead with two minutes left to break open the game. Forward Mike Larios, making his first start of the campaign, hit three 20-foot jumpers to push the SSF five ahead while senior center Steve Venters penetrated the Ram zone defense for seven more points.

But Westmoor came surging back and trailed by only two at 52-51 with four minutes left. From then on it was a seesaw battle with SSF managing to hold never more than a five and never less than a two-point lead. After Ram Mike Brown hit a 15-footer to bring Westmoor to the 53-51 mark a lay-in by Venters and a jumper by Dick Young, who was really clamped by Westmoor, pushed SSF six in front.

Starting guard Steve Gilmore fouled out a few seconds later and with him went a majority of the Ram quickness and defense. Larios followed Gilmore to the bench with five fouls with two minutes left but the Warriors were able to get a good performance from Bob Collins to fill the gap.

Again the Rams charged back and again came within two at 63-61 when center Dan Montelongo hit two free throws. Guard Tim Noxon and Venters added single points before Jim Lewis buried a hurried 18-footer with 15 seconds left. Young's last two-pointer on a lay-in at the buzzer iced the win and the championship.

Purcell and Giammona alternated tricky defenses and pulled several surprises trying to outguess one another.

Devil's Slide Funds Sought

Senator Richard J. Dolwig (R-San Mateo County) said Friday the State Highway Commission should immediately allocate funds to re-route State Highway 1 around the Devil's Slide area.

"The constant closure of the Devil's slide area from mudslides is an intolerable situation for the coastside residents and action must be taken immediately," Dolwig said.

Dolwig said the state will repair the existing routing of Devil's Slide as soon as the weather permits, but in the meantime steps must be taken to re-route the highway around this hazardous area.

He said he was assured by Alan Hart, district highway engineer, that given adequate financing a contract could be let for the improvements within two years.

Dolwig said he has been in- that under the ordinary scheme of financing, the project is "at least ten years away."

He said a freeway route has been adopted, the agreements signed, and the Division of Highways currently is acquiring right-of-way.

The senator inquired Thursday about the possibility of obtaining emergency funds under Assembly Bill 76, the flood relief measure, but it was determined that this bill applies only to local government, not state highways.

Dolwig said he ha sbeen informed that the County Board of Supervisors will appeal to the Highway Commission in April to accelerate the Highway 1 project. He promised to give the board his full support.

Car Strikes Pole; 1 Held On Gun Count

Two persons were injured in a car that was totalled when it struck a light pole in San Bruno early Saturday.

One of those hurt, Myron J. Nixoff, 21, of 672 Fourth Avenue, San Bruno, also was arrested, on a charge of possessing a concealed weapon.

Nixon was admitted to Peninsula Hospital shortly after the 1:10 a.m. accident at Santa Lucia Avenue and El Camino Real, for treatment of a fractured jaw and scalp lacerations, according to San Bruno police sources.

He was arrested by Millbrae police patrolman Jack Sully, who witnessed the accident while on routine patrol in an area in which San Bruno and Millbrae police overlap coverage.

Police said Nixon handed police a 44 magnum revolver that he assertedly had tucked in his belt.

The driver of the wrecked car, James C. Marc, 26, a merchant seaman who lives at 133 Santa Domingo Avenue, San Bruno, was treated for chest contusions, but not admitted to the hospital.

Marc told authorities he had swerved and applied his car brakes while southbound on El Camino Real and the auto went out of control and struck a light standard.

El Camino Seniors Win

and salutatorian Steve Johnson in Math and Science. The Fine Arts award was given to Peggy Spry while Louis Salinas will receive a plaque for Vocational Arts.

Initially, names of students eligible for the awards were submitted by the faculty. Finalists

Valedictorian Chris Henson won in the Liberal Arts division, were then selected by the Administrative Council which is composed of department heads and administrators.

The four winners will eventually participate in a zone competition with other Bank of America award winners from North San Mateo County. Winners in this division receive $25 or $50 and a chance to participate in final competition in San Francisco.

All finalists in this competition are given $150. Three of these students will receive $1,000, $500, and $250 in national competition.

Prayer Book Is Snatched

Apparently nothing is sacred anymore — at least not to the pair of young teenagers who swiped a woman's purse in broad daylight Sunday.

Elsa E. Vogel was walking along Knowles Avenue shortly before noon when the youths, ages about ten and 15 years old, ran up to the victim, grabbed her purse and fled down a sidestreet.

"There was a prayer book inside," he said.

Phone Firm Aids Retarded School

From the attractive surroundings of the Pacific Telephone TSP office on West San Bruno Avenue to the equally attractive Palos Verdes School is but a short distance. Yet they are a generation and a world apart. Palos Verdes is one of San Mateo County's two schools for mentally retarded children.

The school's link with San Bruno TSP began more than two years ago, thanks to the continuing efforts of Assistant Traffic Operating Manager Adele Owen. She saw the opportunity for a unique community service and soon enlisted the help of the 112 other employes at TSP — an opportunity to bring special pleasure to the 85 mentally retarded youngsters at the nearby school.

TSP became more than a designation for Traffic Service Position, the new cordless switchboards. It also came to mean "Take Special Pleasure."

On such holidays as Thanksgiving and Christmas, TSP brought extra happiness to the children at Palos Verdes, with gifts and fancy fixings.

Valentine's Day was the most recent opportunity, as Mrs. Owen and a committee of four headed for Palos Verdes with a special cargo of cards and cupcakes. The cupcakes were the creation of Service Assistant Evelyn Danczak, and TSP Operators Dale Tabor and Gayle Clark helped in their distribution.

The TSP contingent always has been accumstomed to receiving an enthusiastic welcome at Palos Verdes, and this time was no exception.

Palos Verdes Principal Joseph C. Marx had this to say about the school: "The whole idea is to give each child a successful experience . . . to effectively change his self-concepts."

The youngsters, ranging in age from 5 to 18, are encouraged to take part in a wide range of activities. Many of the girls become quite adept at cooking, nursing and other domestic endeavors. The boys operate a car wash and tend a flourishing vegetable garden, in addition to take care of custodial duties.

The school's record of accomplishment for its graduates is impressive: Of those over age 18, some 24 now have taken part-time jobs in the community. Some are on the staff of the Children's Health Home Center in San Mateo. Two girls are nurses aides at the Nutting Nursing Home in South San Francisco. Two of the boys have become gardeners and custodial helpers and are drawing part-time pay.

As Principal Marx said, the idea of Palos Verdes school is to give the mentally retarded child a successful experience, an experience they can carry into their outside life to achieve a relative degree of success there.

Helping them along the way are the employes of San Bruno TSP. And the steady stream of thank you letters from grateful parents is ample proof of their effectiveness.

VALENTINE'S DAY GIFT of cupcakes is presented here by Mrs. Adle Owen and Evelyn Danczak with Gayle Clark and Dale Tabor.

SSF High Wins Bay Business Title

FBLA, South San Francisco High chapter, nearly made a grand sweep at the Bay Section business competition at McClymonds High School, Oakland, on February 15. Competing in 11 categories, FBLA'ers from South City scored in 9 categories while failing to place in spelling and the Mr. FBLA contests. Six first place awards were won with the coveted award of Miss FBLA (based on potential executive ability and selected the most outstanding business girl student throughout the bay area) being Gail Picchi, who also placed second in the shorthand contest. Gail is also South San Francisco's Bank of America candidate in the field of vocational arts.

First place awards were won by: Linda Payton, typing II; Cheryl Loyd, public speaking; Denise Burgess, bookkeeping; Carol Palmer, preliminary procedure (this award is the sixth straight for South San Francisco High); Denise Burgess, vocabulary; and Gail Picchi, Miss FBLA. Gail was presented a Royal portable typewriter by Heald's College for her outstanding achievement.

Second place awards: Linda Keane, typing II; Gail Picchi, shorthand;

Third place awards: Kathryn Geranios, essay; Cheryl Hite, parliamentary procedure;

Fourth place award: Mary Heath, shorthand.

Fifth place awards: Terri Wallen, bookkeeping; Doretta Shimamoto, typing I.

In addition to the awards, Linda Keane and Carol Palmer were elected Bay Section officers, vice president and treasurer respectively. The Bay Section officers are in charge of planning the affairs for all FBLA activities and to coordinate with the state FBLA sections.

South San Francisco High FBLA will now compete at the state level in Sacramento during the annual state FBLA convention on April 25-27. Chapters from the southern, central, and northern areas will compete for state honors with winners going on to national FBLA competition.

In a move to centralize FBLA chapters of the northern section, bay area chapters were formed into the Bay Section, FBLA. In the past, all schools located from San Jose to Redding were part of the northern section. The distance and expense involved in going to conferences made it imperative that the bay area schools became a new section since the 26 FBLA chapters located throughout the bay area found it difficult at times to become involved in the activities of FBLA.

The South San Francisco High chapter has consistently sent representatives to the local and state competitions. A member must place in the local section contest to qualify for state honors.

FBLA is a national high school business organization sponsored by the National Business Education Association, Washington, D.C. The NBEA is an affiliation of the National Education Association.

Sponsors of the South San Francisco High FBLA are Miss Mitchell, Miss Schifferli, and Mr. Peligrino, business education teachers.

Parkway Dispute Now Is in Court

A dispute between the Piombo Construction Company and the county over the construction of Guadalupe Canyon Parkway across San Bruno Mountain was taken to court Thursday.

The Piombo firm filed suit in Superior Court in Redwood City for $38,596 more than it was paid, claiming that the county erred in its specifications.

According to the complaint, Piombo bid on the job in reliance on assurances by the county that not more than 5,000 cubic yards of excess dirt would have to be excavated and hauled away. Actually, the suit states, 80,400 cubic yards had to be removed.

Piombo billed the county for $95,814 but the county paid only $57,218. The suit asks for the difference, plus 7 percent interest from November 14, 1967.

Resuscitator Calls Gain In South SSF

The South San Francisco Fire Department averages 200 resuscitor - inhalator calls a year, with the number increasing, according to Fire Chief John Marchi.

Firemen are trained in advance Red Cross First Aid including the use of heart massage.

Firemen are also required to take refresher first aid courses reglarly. Four resuscitators and a resusci-Anne, a life-like manikin, are used to demonstrate and practice all types of resuscitation.

Chief Marchi stressed the importance of people phoning the Fire Department immediately. "No matter where in the city, if the person calls us directly we can get there in two minutes. It's folly for a person to call his own doctor first if a doctor is needed we make all the arrangements en route so no time is wasted."

Marchi added that if a person could not talk "take the receiver off the hood and dial. The operator will get in touch with us."

Marchi estimated that in heart cases, his men save about one half of the victims who call. However, most calls concern asthmatic cases or other types of first aid work.

Burglars At Bruno Home

Burglars who Wednesday usd brute force to get through a dutch door, but shunned a quarter in a piggy bank, carted off a table model radio, a tape recorder and ten tapes from the San Bruno home of Elizabeth Sprenger.

San Bruno police said the burglars put their shoulders to one-half of the door to the Sprenger home at 253 Florida Avenue, sometime between 5 p.m. and midnight.

A piggybank had been broken into, but the quarter inside was not taken.

Authorities said the items taken were valued at $225.

Capuchino Students Prep For 'Arsenic, Old Lace'

CAPUCHINO DRAMA players warm up to a scene in "Arsenic and Old Lace," but as anybody who's seen it knows, it gets funnier. Special benefit performance March 14 will help Cap High Marching Band get uniforms. Later play dates are March 21 and 22 at 8 p.m. Emoting, above, are, left to right, Don Dake, Scott Lee, Nancy Winter, Jim Calvert, Patty Staggs, Annette Cairo and Rusty Lee. Protests To Municipal Bonds Fail

Unanimously over-riding protests of city property owners, the San Mateo Council Monday approved creation of a Municipal Facilities District and called for bids on the issuance of $320,000 in municipal bonds.

The action climaxed a public hearing which brought out the fact that the bonds will be paid on a citywide tax of one-cent per $100 assessed valuation per year. In the case of a home assessed at $10,000, it will mean $10 per year or a total of $150 over the 15 year period. As the city's assessed valuation goes up the amount of the levy will go down.

However, in undertaking the new method of financing for the city, even Councilman Robert C. Garvey, long recognized as a "watchdog of the treasury" voiced the opinion that, "It is a good thing to do." However, he added . . . "Whether this is the best way to do it may be something else."

His colleagues took the firm position that since the city had contracted a debt of $1,550,000 in August, 1967 to build a new main library, a deficit of $115,000 must be paid. The sum had been unexpected and represented an increase in a number of incidentals, changes, and furnishing costs.

The $200,000 to buy 2.5 acres of land to expand the now badly cramped corporation yard is a major necessity. The land is up for sale. In the case of the corporation yard, it was noted that voters had approved it by a majority of some 54 per cent, but had not given the necessary two-thirds at the last June 18 bond issue election, hence the Council was still following the will of the majority, said Councilman John J. Murray, Mayor Roy Archibald and Weber.

In delineating the costs, City Manager Arthur B. Sullivan said the $200,000 was a good price, and the land was up for sale by the owner, the Peninsula Golf and Country Club. The private golf course has need of funds to improve its sprinkler system. The original asking price had been $275,000. The club's appraiser set the land value at $240,000. The city's staff appraiser put the price at $190,000, and the finally negotiated $200,000 represented a good value, particularly in view of continually rising land and construction costs, noted the City Manager.

In order of their presentation the Council heard from Frank Ganino, representing the United Homeowners; Candidate John F. Condon, Candidate Robert Waggener, Robert D. Spear, 425 Yale Drive, Candidate Marlin Gill, Mac Harlan, 831 North Delaware Street, Leon Brown, Jene Rosetti, 602 South Grant Street, William Tyo, 816 Maple Street, Mrs. Mary Cunningham, 457 Highland Avenue, Edward Rojas, 3621 Branson Drive.

Only Waggener and Tyo endorsed the Council's action and Brown after seeking more information indicated satisfaction.

But the other protestants were emphatic—not so much in criticising the city's need to pay the library deficit or expand the corporation yard, but they were adamantly opposed to the method of financing, scoring the failure to bring the need back to the voter through the ballot for another look. They voiced distrust of the district and the Series E bond methods of financing. Both require only a council vote to issue bonds spread citywide, similar to the voter-approved general obligation bonds.

Ganino centered his argument on the use of Series E bonds, used last year to issue some $800,000 in bonds on a similar council vote spreading the cost citywide.

Councilman Weber promptly moved to review the E bond method of financing as a policy in study session. The action was unanimously approved. Weber said there is a "need to define policy on emergency funding measures."

Council candidate Condon, while recognizing the need for the expenditure, asked why the Council had not put it on the April 1 ballot. Condon termed the council's action as "arrogant" and one which would set a precedent, "over-riding the will of the people." He urged a delay until the next election opportunity.

Waggener declared his wholehearted support of the council's action in purchasing the land and paying the library bill, agreeing that there is no alternative other than to lose the land, and the library bill has to be paid. He said he didn't think it was subverting the will of the people who had been notified by postcard of the pending hearing.

Mrs. Boales Sentenced To Prison

Superior Judge Louis B. Dematteis finished sentencing Atherton socialite Ina Leighty Boales to state prison yesterday on charges of forgery, perjury and secreting insured property.

In contrast to last Friday, when the court session was continued after the 42-year-old defendant collapsed, yesterday's session went smoothly and swiftly, with Mrs. Boales sitting in a chair and calmly hearing her fate.

Mrs. Boales was convicted last November of 27 felony counts arising from fraudulent claims against the estate of her late husband, Sig Funke.

She was returned last week from the state prison for women at Corona where she underwent a period of psychiatric evaluation. The slight, grey-haired defendant collapsed Friday when Judge Dematteis announced that he wasn't going along with the evaluation report that she be given straight probation and was going to sentence her to state prison.

Although Mrs. Boales was technically sentenced on all 27 counts, the sentence was suspended on 17, with concurrent sentences being imposed on two counts of forgery, six counts of perjury and two counts of secreting insured property.

The sentences carry prison terms ranging from 1 to 14 years, with Mrs. Boales being eligible to apply for parole after serving four months.

Plan Dinner For Chess

Plans were formulated at a meeting of veteran organizations for a testimonial dinner honoring T. Louis Chess, supervisor of San Mateo County, to be held at the Redwood City American Legion Hall, 651 El Camino Real in Redwood City on Saturday, April 5.

The committee, which includes representatives from the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, 40 et 8 Societies, and Disabled American Veterans, are hosting this evening to honor Supervisor Chess, not only for his outstanding civic service to the county, but especially for what he has done over the past years for the veterans on county and state levels.

Reservations for the dinner, which are limited, should be made by March 28 with John L. Hardiman, general chairman and longtime friend of Chess, at 1225 Tilia, San Mateo.

A no host cocktail hour from 6 to 7 p.m. will precede the dinner.

Grant Pays For Center

Burlingame School Board President, Mrs. Elinor Rusch reports that word has been received from the State Board of Education that an application to establish an exemplary library-multi-media center at Burlingame Intermediate School had been approved.

Establishment of this center, one of 20 in the state, will be funded under a federal program, in the amount of $41,826.

Jack Charnow, principal, relayed the news to his faculty. This grant is the culmination of many months of effort on the part of Charnow and his staff. Many hours were spent on evaluating materials and educational specifications.

Some Openings At Math Class

A limited number of openings still are available in the mathematics class sponsored by the Adult School of San Mateo Union High School District, Dr. Morris H. Winward, Director of Adult Education, announced.

Honors For Burlingame Art Advisor

Dale Perkins, art supervisor of the Burlingame School District, was presented an honorary life membership in the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, by O. John Taylor, superintendent of Burlingame schools, at the February 27 P-TA Founders Day meeting at Burlingame Intermediate School.

Dale Perkins was the first to display children's art work at the San Francisco International Airport. Originally the art was from only Burlingame schools' students work and as the idea developed now has become a county-wide project with schools all over San Mateo County involved. The idea has also spread as passengers enter and leave our airport to go all over the United States and inquiries are sent here requesting information on the project.

Perkins lives in Burlingame with his wife and two children: son Tarney attends Intermediate School and daughter Jean, Mills High School. A native of Glenwood, Minn., he attended Commerce High School in San Francisco, received his M.A. and Administrative credential from San Francisco State College. He attended San Francisco School of Fine Arts also. He was an Art Illustrator at Fort Ord during his military service. He has taught school in Oakland and Petaluma. He is a past president of Northern Area of Pacific Arts Association.

Civic Center Site Shifted

San Mateo City Councilman William Weber Monday pointed to the city corporation yard site at 1949 Pacific Boulevard, facing the railroad tracks and the surrounding area as ideal for a civic center and office development.

His comment came when real estate salesman Jene Rosetti urged the council to relocate the yard on cheaper (but unfilled) land on East Third Avenue Bridge approach road or in Foster City.

Weber agreed to the possible relocation at sometime in the future. Meanwhile, he said purchase of the 2.5 acres from the Peninsula Golf and Country Club at $200,000 was a good thing because it would permit expansion of the corporation yard — but also it would serve as a "holding device" pending the time when a civic center could be developed in the area.

He said the city should some day acquire other property and build a major civic and office center on the corporation yard site and extending around the police department headquarters which face 2000 Delaware Street.

Discussion of the issue prompted Councilman Robert C. Garvey to needle Weber vulnerable point. He said, "It's too bad Mr. Weber didn't know about this cheaper land in San Mateo, because he could have relocated his own office headquarters (which, were recently built in Burlingame) to this city. He has such interest in office developments in San Mateo.

Censorship At School?

Dr. Paul Bowers, principal of San Mateo High School, has voiced concern about proposed words to be used in a Black Culture play scheduled for March 19 at the school.

Bowers, according to a report in the school's student newspaper, has said that the language might not be appropriate for a school or public performance. He added that the Board of Trustees and the community as a whole might not approve of the language.

He noted further that, if the words are included in the play, it might prove to some that the schools don't deserve support.

Bruno Store Is Robbed

An armed robber, shielding his gun from view by covering it with a newspaper, stole about $275 from a Seven-Eleven store in San Bruno a half-hour after it opened yesterday.

James Pitts, owner of the store at Huntington and East Angus, said a lone gunman cleaned out the cash register after confronting clerk Tim Kumkel, 20, with the gun, at about 7:35 a.m.

Belmont School Progress

Preparations for what it hopes will be far-reaching educational program improvements were approved by the Belmont School District board of trustees Monday night.

A new Learning Disabilities Center, to screen slow learners who may need more help than the usual classroom situation offers, will be operated this summer. The staff of physicians, speech therapists and psychologists would look mostly for neurological handicaps of children generally referred to them by classroom teachers.

Children would be tested this summer by appointment and assigned to any needed remedial classes starting in September. This program already has begun but the big effort will be made this summer, with Superintendent Claude C. Turner saying he expected perhaps up to 200 children to be screened.

The board Monday also approved low bids of the Miller Co. of Oakland and Photo and Sound, Inc. of San Francisco for $40,100 worth of television antenna distribution system equipment, mostly to be installed this summer and ready for use in September.

This system would pick up commercial and local cable TV programs and allow broadcasting from any schoolroom in the district.

Mrs. Rosalie Garrison, an eighth grade teacher at Ralston Intermediate, was commended for winning a Freedoms Foundation Award for work her social studies classes did on the early history of Belmont, particularly on the Ralston estate.

In other business the board:

Approved hiring of another counselor for next year to work at Barrett and Nesbit schools — the first such counselor for the elementary grades;

Okayed bringing in consultants for studies on a proposed data dial retrieval system for the district, in light of the district's future needs with the development and peopling of Redwood Shores;

Authorized four recruiting journeys, three to California colleges and one out-of-state, as in past years.

Housing Meet In San Mateo

March 11 has been set for a special study on housing by the San Mateo Human Relations Commission. It will begin at 8 p.m.

The Council noted the date at Monday's meeting and urged the general public to attend. The session will be held in the council chambers at the city hall.

In inviting the Council, Commission Chairman Mrs. Eleanor Curry wrote in a letter, "The critical housing issue in San Mateo is one of the most heated discussions taking place today and one in which the entire community should be involved.

"The Human Relations Commission . . . decided to set up a study session for the purpose of identifying these housing needs and promoting the means of solving them.

". . . We wish to extend a special invitation to you (the Council) and to any other interested individuals or groups who wish to make a presentation to attend this session with the fervent hope that we will be able to find some solutions to this most urgent problem . . ."

Arts Council In San Mateo

San Mateo City Councilman John J. Murray Monday called for the preparation of an ordinance to permit creation of a non-profit San Mateo City Arts Council.

The Arts Council was the subject of a special citizens' committee study and had been created some two years ago when Murray was mayor.

He said the recommendation to create such a council has been allowed to remain dormant, pending return to this city of the former chairman Dr. Arthur Corey. He has been out of the country.

"Now," said Councilman Murray, "It is time to act, and to let the citizens proceed with the creation of the Council."

City Attorney Richard Randolph was unanimously instructed to proceed with the necessary legal implementation.

Spindrift Players Find Way to Make Dream Reality

By DORIS CHRISTIANSEN

The Community Playhouse, the Little Theater, the high school play, all these lead up to "all the world is a stage and we are all bit players," but in many cases hamlets, towns and cities, have their ambitious people, who go ahead and bring this type of thing to a reality.

What makes the Little Theatre enjoyable and effective as a community organization? The Pacifica Spindrift Players, seem to have found the answer, which lies in efficient management, community support and a membership who work together as a repertory group — plus a lot of hard work.

Sheila Hyman, present commissioner of Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation Department, and one of the founders of the Players, explains the formative years.

The Players were formed more than 10 years ago, under the sponsorship of the Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation Department. Their first play, "The Tender Trap" was given at Linda Mar School. They presented their plays anywhere an audience could be seated. Sometimes it was only one play a year, sometimes three. It was not until 1963 that the present site, Oddsted Center was used. It was the Players who built the stage, put in the lighting, and built the flats that are now being used."

Quite a change from the present business-like basis that Aubrey Lumley, current president of the Players, has instituted. Lumley, active in many Pacifica community organizations, and credit manager for a large wholesale company, states how he has put the Players on a business basis.

"Advertising is now handled by an advertising agency. A complete season of four plays is planned for one year in advance. Directors, publicity chairman, group sales chairman, house and lobby chairman, and ticket sales chairman are all appointed yearly. Many of the performances are sold out to fund raising groups in the area."

The Board of Directors: Sharon Almeida, vice-president; Luther Spraker, secretary; Bonnie Jesperson, treasurer, and Charlene Amick, Dorothy Hoag, and Ron Juvland, are responsible for implementing the budget, which is now close to $3,000 per year. Future plans, now under consideration by the board, include capitol investment of $600 for new lighting, fine arts scholarships for Pacifica's high schools, participating in the Portola Expedition Pageant being planned by the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce and submitting a program of children's plays to the Laguna Salada School District, to be given by the Players."

The Players have been given fine support by many community organizations. The Pacific Heights P-TA, Vallemar P-TA, Sweet Adelines, AAUW, Federated Women's Clubs and many other organizations have bought out an entire performance — raising money for their own groups. Ticket sales have been sold at Linda Mar Florist, Periwinkle Art Gallery, Kent Cleaners and Ewald Travel Service. Many businesses, such as Saddletown, Safeway Stores, and Coast Lighting Products, have donated supplies for various performances. Without this type of community support, the Players could not have grown.

But first a little theatre group is only as effective as its members. It must work as a repertory group. Each person must be willing to work in any job, be it starring in one play, sweeping the stage in another or painting scenery for the next performance. A look at the present play now being presented by the Pacifica Spindrift Players, "The first half as San Francisco Rainmaker," shows how each member is expected to wear different hats.

Sidney and Rodney Clark, co-directors of "The Rainmaker" have both worked on past crews as stage designers, and stage managers. Charlene Amick, who has the female lead, has been president of the Players, and has also been group sales chairman. Robert Prutsman, of Millbrae, is new to the Players, but will be expected to serve on the crew of the next performance. Gil West, long active in the Players, has recently been responsible for poster design and distribution. William Thaxton was last seen in the holiday presentation of "The Wizard of Oz" as the brainless scarecrow. Dennis Krier, last worked on the fall play "Arsenic and Old Lace." Bob Southworth was stage manager for last spring's play, "Blithe Spirit." Aubrey Lumley, president of the Players, was assistant stage manager of the last play, director of the previous one, and lighting chairman of the one before that. Luther Spraker, state manager and assistant director of "The Rainmaker" played the cowardly lion in "The Wizard of Oz," had a small part in "Arsenic and Old Lace," and the lead in "Blithe Spirit."

The last play of the 1968-69 season, "A Thousand Clowns," will be presented in May.

Next season starts the second decade for the Players. They hope by that time to own their own theatre.

'Vacation' Is Over

SORRY ABOUT THAT — As Samuel Clemens once remarked, "Reports of my death have been greatly exaggerated." No, but honestly, folks it's great to be back behind our battered Underwood hunting and pecking away at stories and people!

First off, we owe a debt of gratitude to those pinch-hitters who filled in this space during our current "vacation," with a special note of thanks to Jim Grealish.

Grealish, who fronts as a Daly City businessman (Westlake Bowl), Commodore in the U.S. Naval Reserve, President of the Navy League (Western Region), Sports Columnist for the Post, was parttime guest columnist on this page the past many weeks. (P.S. We heard a rumor that Jim is also a family man, but we couldn't find anyone who would confirm this). And that's the price of being popular.

When we have time, Dear Reader, we'll recall in print our months-long episode at Franklin Hospital and our convalescent in front of the Boobtube while watching daytime telly.

NO WE WON'T — Take up the gauntlet thrown down by a certain twice-weekly North County media that goes around town spouting off they are the "only" Daly City newspaper. Balderdash, we say!

AND SPEAKING OF OUR ILLNESS, the good old doctor stuck us on a hardcore diet. To which our good friend, Tom Toy, the congenial host at the Imperial Palace Restaurant in San Francisco's Chinatown, greeted us on our release from hospital "Gung Hay LOW-Fat Choy." And a Happy Year of the Rooster to you!

AND THE NEW YEAR (Fowl Year?) is supposed to favor writers — which leaves us out in the cold again.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT — Hizzoner Frank Blum off to sunny Palm Springs. Recuperating nicely from major surgery . . . Ida Spadarella, lovely wife of County Human Relations Commission chairman Frank Spadarella, likewise mending from her experience in front of I. Magnin the other a.m. when a car ran amuck killing an elderly woman and injuring six others. Mrs. Spadarrella suffered facial cuts and shock.

STORY BEHIND THE STORY — The heat didn't drive Jeff District trustee Frank Monte out of the kitchen, it was sickness in his immediate family. During his two years on the board Monte is credited with doing one heckuva job for the community. Pity he isn't running again, he'd be a shoo-in, we'd betcha!

WHAT IN THE WORLD will we do with TWO transit systems directly to the airport? One proposal outlines plans for such a system between San Francisco and International Airport, while Westbay is talking about a linkup with Black BART between Daly City and the airport. Come on gang, the place just ain't that popular.

JUHSD SUPER BULLETIN "Mod Counselors" which deals with counselors at Oceana High "If there is a degree of urgency in the need for a counseling session then the student must be SEEKED OUT . . ." Meanwhile, back at the chalkboard. . . .

DALY CITY MAYOR Bud Lycett was sought out by CSM students to serve on the new Citizens Advisory Council Board, our Usually Reliable Source informs.

A Favorite Game

A favorite game on the Berkely Campus is for a group of hirsute young men and women to form a ring around a leader and engage in a dialogue.

"Who are the people?" the leader shouts.

"We are the people."

"Is the dean the people?"

"No."

"Is Ronald Reagan the people?"

"No."

"Are the pigs the people?"

"Who are the people?"

"We are the people."

Then the police move in and the shouters move away. It is ring around the rosey for college students with thousands of students and faculty members moving passed the ring and a photographer taking pictures—not of the shouters but of the people passing by so the readers of his paper may conclude that the strikers constitute a majority and the whole generation has gone to pot.

AN ARTICLE by Martin Duberman in the Atlantic Monthly warns against this conclusion. "I doubt if we have ever had a generation or at least a minority of one—that has engaged itself so earnestly on the side of principled action, that valued people so dearly and possessions so little, that cared enough within it, that wanted so desperately to lead open, honest lives and to have institutions and a society which would make such lives possible."

Mr. Duberman warns that "The young, it is becoming clear, are regarded with considerable hatered in our country. It is a generation for which we should be immensely grateful and of which we should be immensely proud."

"College students have traditionally been viewed as apprentices, almost as supplicants, and until recently they accepted their role as dutiful petitioners for entry into the world of adult insight and skill."

"Today's 18 to 20 year old considers himself an adult, by which he does not mean (as so many forty year olds unconsciously do) that he has ceased growing but that he has grown up enough to make his own decisions. In every sense, even statistically, his case is a strong one."

DUBERMAN warns adults that they must cease telling young people that they are frenzied children; that they should not push us too far; that they too in time will grow to understand the real ways of the world."

They are not all strikers and according to Mr. Duberman, "They are not confused children, uncertain of their motives or aims, but determined adults who have found their education and their society seriously wanting."

Maybe, but I think it is a shame what "the ring around the riot group" has done to lovely Sather-Gate.

RAINMAKER LEADS Robert Prutsman and Charlene Amick are shown in scene from show which will be staged the next two Fridays and Saturdays at Oddstad Center, Crespi Drive, Pacifica.

BARBARA BLADEN

(Post Drama Critic)

Dull, Boring

One would expect a play, a popular one at that, coming out of Russia to be riddled with political dogma. Happily, "The Promise" is not.

But one doesn't expect an American Conservatory Theater production to be dull, boring and interminable. Unhappily, the new show added to our brilliant company's repertoire at the Marines' Memorial Theater is.

It's been successful in many countries. For American audiences it offers no fresh insights, no new ideas, no spark of enlightenment to a dilemma too often dramatized. While it ends on a note of hope that the promise the three characters make to themselves and each other might still be fulfilled, it drags in the telling and borders on the melodramatic in spite of champion acting performances.

THE PLAY COVERS 17 YEARS, from the war-torn years in Leningrad through the bombing, the terror, the deaths, to peace and the two soldiers' heroic return to the woman they both love. Their promise to protect each other and proudly share in the success they'll individually achieve, and the inherent promise people make in time of struggle that they'll be better for it, learn and grow as human beings whose eyes have been opened through suffering is the theme of the Aleksei Arbuzov drama.

That hope isn't thrust dramatically until the final act and the self-sacrifice each feels he must make for the others, bogs the drama down in histrionics and indecision. One feels uncomfortable at their tortured love triangle rather than feeling pity for those actions that lead to creative and emotional destruction.

The actors are not entirely to blame. David Dukes as the engineer, Mark Bramhall as the poet and Dana Larson in the role of a doctor who's aspirations to be a great research scientist disintegrate, as do the dedication of her companions in youth, one becoming her husband and the other her heart's desire.

All this takes place in a grim, bare, cold apartment which reshapes according to the country's rehabilitation. And as the furnishings brighten, so does its inhabitants' spirits dampen. The young people surviving the war's holocaust are more lively than those more mature survivors who have learned to cope with their society and their failures.

IT IS THE FIRST TWO ACTS THAT ARE SO DEADLY. And it is the author's fault. The play never really came alive for me until the third act.

Much of the translated dialogue makes for clumsy and stilted performing. Ed Hastings has tried to keep the movement lively and the emotional tempo flowing. There simply sin't enough being said that's sympathetic or important to our times. I wasn't alone in my snoring on opening night.

It's commendable that such a play was effective in Russia. It's too bad that A.C.T. burdened their repertoire with it.

Is It a Bargain?

QUESTION: Does the advertised offer "Buy Now! Make No Payments for 90 days" mean I am getting a bargain?

ANSWER: In most cases deferred payments on credit purchases cost more than if payments started immediately. Finance charges normally begin on the date of purchase. If you delay 90 days starting payments on a 24 month repayment plan, charges for 27 months are added and paid by you.

QUESTION: Do DuPont, B. F. Goodrich, U.S. Steel use the telephone to sell customers house siding?

ANSWER: No. These firms make raw materials that may go into such a product in some form. Do not do business with a salesperson who misrepresents his real company affiliation.

QUESTION: I signed a contract for merchandise but paid no money. Is an agreement binding without an exchange of money?

ANSWER: Normally yes. The agreement would be sealed unless specific provision is made to the contrary. The validity of a contract is not affected by the transfer of money from one party to another.

QUESTION: Are the H.O.P.E. Foundation and the Mercy Ship Project Hope the same organization?

ANSWER: Help Opportunity For Paid Employees (H.O.P.E.) and the world famous Mercy Ship Project Hope are two completely unrelated organizations. H.O.P.E. sells longlife light bulbs by telephone, using solicitors who are reported to utilize a sympathy appeal. Some are handicapped. While it is commendable to help handicapped people, this fact should not be commercially exploited. H.O.P.E. is strictly a "for profit" organization.

QUESTION: Why doesn't the BBB do something about stopping business smut peddlers?

ANSWER: You alone have the power to protect your family from smut peddlers. Under a new federal law if you and your family find mailings "erotically arousing or sexually provocative," write to your local Postmaster using a prescribed form and you will not receive additional mail of any kind from the offending mailer.

Letters to Editor

Keeping of Pets

Editor, The Post:

It has recently been brought to our attention that the County of San Mateo considers most of our pets to be illegal and will not hesitate to take action in court against anyone keeping any pet other than: maximum two dogs and two cats; and a maximum total of 12 chicken hens, pigeons, guinea pigs, chinchillas and hamsters, if they are not closer than 75 feet to an existing building or 10 feet to a property line.

The Board of Supervisors, Planning Commission and District Attorney have agreed on an interpretation that makes only those above-listed pets legal and are now involved in court action with a man who contends that it is not the intent of this ordinance to make all other pets such as rabbits, rats, mice, turtles, snakes, lizards, tropical fish, parakeets, canaries, mynah birds, ducks, squirrels, etc. illegal if they are kept in a manner that is not a hazard to neighbors.

The District Attorney's office has stated that they enforce all County ordinances by the system that makes acts illegal unless they are specifically allowed.

We wonder if some of your readers will be as concerned as we are about (1) helping to submit an enlightened pet ordinance (some of the cities have them) for adoption by the Board of Supervisors and (2) helping the man who is in court trying to show that we don't approve the kind of law enforcement that makes all acts illegal unless they are specifically permitted.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

Stickney's San Mateo Restaurant Praised

"Our recent reception held at your very fine restaurant was a marvelous success," writes Carl K. Schieck, executive vice president of Security Pacific National Bank, San Francisco, in a recent letter sent to Adrian "Red" Stickney. "Our entrance into the San Mateo area was a warm one, we feel, and a large factor was your fine facilities and the diligent care given our guests by your good staff. Miss Mary Frances Pardue is to be commended for her excellent handling of the Security Pacific opening festivities. We look forward to the next time when we again will enjoy your fine hospitality." . . . Add George Skaaf, general manager of The Franciscan restaurant at Fisherman's Wharf, to the list of flu victims. However, George is now back on the job, much to the delight of staff personnel and diners . . . If you didn't know that Oliver's restaurant in South San Francisco is famous for their steaks, you just haven't eaten mouth-waterin' beef until you've dined here. Also accommodations for banquets.

Nick Gust, mayor of Pacifica and owner of Nick's and The Moonraker (both restaurants are located in picturesque Rockaway Beach in Pacifica), is continuing to offer fine entertainment in addition to outstanding food. Currently at Nick's on Friday and Saturday nights is vocalist Mary Ann Hay with the Del Carlo Combo, while organist Jim Payer provides your favorite tunes Wednesday through Sunday from 6 p.m. to 11 p.m. The Moonraker, meanwhile, is featuring the organ music of a Bay Area favorite, Don Kelly, Wednesday through Sunday . . . Dinner-dancing to the vibrant sounds of the Cava Cambo, featuring the golden tones of Joann Rose, is an evening well spent in the fabulous Chez Michel dining room of the Thunderbolt Hotel, Millbrae. If you're coming in from a trip to the snow country, the Thunderbolt's coffee shop is open 24 hours a day . . . Members of The Ed Yearing Realty Company of San Carlos and their wives, headed by John Phillips, held a dinner meeting in the Executive Room of Lew Lehr's steak house in San Francisco.

ALTHOUGH Post Time is 8 p.m. during Night Harness Racing at Bay Meadows, many horse fans make nearby Foster's a dining room "post time" at 6:30 p.m. "Which allows plenty of time to scan 'form sheets' for those 'sure winners' after a hearty meal," said manager Jim Smith . . . From the looks of the Villa Chartier's reservation book, June wedding receptions will hit an all-time high. With nine well-appointed banquet rooms available, dinner parties, business meetings, receptions of all kinds and banquets are a specialty here . . . The Oak Room at Dell'Osso's new restaurant in San Mateo is a relaxed place to have your before-dinner drinks, with intimate tables and a blazing fireplace to make you feel at home. For exquisite dining, of course, there is the Roman Room, where owner Vincent Dell'Osso serves his specialized cuisine . . . Since banquet space at Scotty Campbell's in Redwood City is limited, suggest you give co-owners Theresa and Bud Urban plenty of advance notice when planning parties of large numbers . . . Few restaurants can compare with Burlingame's Matterhorn Swiss restaurant when it comes to efficient management. In charge of the buying and preparation of the delicate Swiss dishes is chef-owner Wilfried Blarer.

TAMMY TYLER continues to bring standing ovation crowds to the Fireside Lounge to see her perform "Upside Down." She dances on the ceiling to a "Go-Go" beat that's really "gone." . . . Thick sliced top-grade steaks are a House of Troy specialty. While on the subject of specials, the midweek (Monday through Thursday) 11 ounce sirloin steak (served with a complimentary glass of wine) for $3.65 is a dine-out "don't miss." . . . Irifune is a name you should jot down in your black book of important places to dine. Japanese food, served with all the graciousness of the Orient, will give you plenty to talk about for future recommendations to friends . . . Seiji Ozawa, who is slated to become the next director of the San Francisco Symphony, stopped traffic at Finocchio's, where he ringsided with his beautiful Eurasian wife . . . Vince's Italian and sea food restaurant invites you to enjoy the hors d'oeuvres served in the lounge from 5:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. nightly . . . The Blue Peacock, located in Millbrae's King's Bowl, offers dinner-dancing to the Fabulous Romanos on Friday and Saturday nights, 9:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. Cocktails? Of course.

LOUIS GUNDUNAS, partner of the Balkan Village in Los Altos, returned to the restaurant from Broadway, New York, where he is featured in "Zorba," the hit musical, for a one-night performance. He sang and danced some of the numbers from the show. His wife, Peggy, presented him with a cake, on which was depicted Louis dancing with a table held in his teeth. Louis, along with star Herschel Bernardi, appeared on the Ed Sullivan Show last Sunday . . . Dave Rasmussen, the Shadows of San Mateo boss, enjoyed a few days away from restaurant duties by zooming off to his Oregon "diggin's." It's Bright Lights' guess he will be back in "Domino action" this weekend . . . Singing star Mickey Turner opens a four-week engagement in Nero's Nook in the Cabana Hotel, Palo Alto, Monday, March 3. Appearing with Mickey will be petite songstress Iris Martine. This is an encore performance for Mickey.

Mini-Skirt Carver New Feature at A. Sabella's

Lucien Sabella, owner of A. Sabella's at Fisherman's Wharf, has two announcements to make this week. First, George Cerruti and his group will open March 4 to provide dinner-dance music, with Vic Flammini on drums. Second, Lucien is currently training a pretty, young girl in the art of carving so she can soon become A. Sabella's Girl in the Mini-skirt who dishes out sandwiches and other delectable goodies. She will specialize in roast beef and mini-hotdogs. Sounds like something to see as well as eat . . . The New Southern restaurant, featuring the "Finest Southern Cooking North of the Mason-Dixon Line," serves Continental dinner, too? And how! Try this one for a starter: Veal a la Parmegiana (tender cutlets of veal breaded, with melted parmesan cheese and cooked in Italian sauce) . . . Lunch and dinner guests at Tommy's Joynt in San Francisco are giving his two new dishes — Turkey Texas Chili and genuine Buffalo Stew a big play.

Voting Reform Panels

A series of public election reforms proposed by local municipal and school officials, including that all elections be held on Sundays, will be held during March, Councilman John J. Murray Jr. of San Mateo, chairman of a special election reform committee, informed the San Mateo County Council of Mayors Friday.

The hearings will be held as follows:

At the Daly City city hall on March 6.

At the San Mateo city hall on March 13.

At the Redwood City city hall on March 20.

Following the hearings, according to a report submitted by Murray, a hearing will be held to evaluate testimony and to prepare recommendations to the mayors' council at its next meeting on March 28.

The seven recommendations prepared by a committee, composed of Murray, Councilman Joseph Zucca of Belmont, Mayor Robert Bury of Redwood City, Mrs. Ruth S. Steiner of the Hillsborough Elementary School Board, Raymond J. Milton of the Jefferson Union High School District, and Fred Bellew, former Pacifica councilman and a member of the County Board of Education, are:

1. That a 60 per cent vote rather than a 66 2-3 vote be required for approval of bond issues.
2. That all bond issues be placed on the ballot only at regularly scheduled elections in April, June or November.
3. That candidates for school boards, city councils or special districts would run at the same election and not in alternate years or at other times of the year.
4. That all elections be held on Sundays.
5. That voters after their first registration be allowed to re-register by mail rather than be required to appear before a deputy registrar.
6. That nomination papers for all offices be standardized.
7. That pro and con arguments for all issues be set to strict standards and that all arguments would be backed by at least ten registered voters.

The mayors agreed that the hearings should be held.

In other actions last night, the mayors' council:

Endorsed a resolution proposed by Daly City that legislation be enacted to take the tax burden off property owners.

Heard a talk by Bert A. Betts, former state treasurer and now a municipal financial consultant, on municipal financing.

Agreed to allow the Bay Area Social Planning Council to participate in a mayors' council study on boarding homes in San Mateo County.

Agreed to discuss at their next meeting a suggestion of Herbert Rhodes of the East Palo Alto Municipal Council, that the mayors' council adopt an "affirmatige action program" that would require all bidders on public works to submit statements of fair employment practices.

Bruno Theft Told Police

The theft of mini-bike parts, a portable 14-inch television and a portable a.m. and f.m. radio from his home was reported to San Bruno police Tuesday by Carly Mayr.

Mayr, of 210 Ross Way, placed a value of $172.50 on the stolen items, taken after burglars entered the basement through an unlocked rear door.

D.C. Student Wins Honors

A Daly City student at Eastern Washington State College, Daniel R. Hartman, is among 142 who have been admitted to the professional education program at the college.

Dr. Roland B. Lewis, EWSC professor of education and director of the professional admissions program, said admission is a prerequisite to advanced education courses. Undergraduate students must have completed at least their sophomore year to be admitted; graduate students working for teaching certificates must also be admitted. Hartman, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hartman, 229 Lincoln Avenue, is a graduate of Westmoor High School. He is a senior majoring in health and physical education at EWSC.

St. Clair Named to Group

Supervisor Robert St. Clair of San Mateo County has been named to the steering committee of the Air and Water Pollution Committee of the National Association of Counties (NACO).

The steering committee will meet for the first time at the Fiscal Federalism Forum, NACO's third annual national legislative conference, to be held in Washington, D.C., from March 2-5.

NACO President James H. Aldredge, a Fulton County, Ga., commissioner, created new steering committees, composed of twelve elected policy-makers and six members of NACO's affiliated organizations for each of the association's nine standing committees.

Supervisor St. Clair is currently serving as board representative on the Bay Area Air Pollution Control district as well as the Bay-Delta Water Quality Control Advisory Committee and the Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

Steering committee members will develop legislative policy and recommendations and will be active throughout the year so that they can review on a continuous basis, federal legislative proposals which affect county government. "In fact," said Aldredge, "steering committee members will serve as the leaders of their particular committee." The Air and Water Pollution steering committee will also deal with solid waste disposal issues.

Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald who is also attending the NACO meeting will meet with federal health and welfare officials regarding progress of San Mateo County's Comprehensive Health Planning Council as well as the Bay Area regional health planning group.

Ninth Church Christ, Scientist Tells Speaker

There's no shortcut to security, Paul K. Wavro, C.S.B., of Jacksonville, Florida, observes in the Christian Science lecture he will give March 9.

"You have to be willing to work and pray, you have to find out what it really means to be God's image and likeness," Wavro says.

His lecture is titled, "How Secure Are You?"

Wavro's appearance is at the invitation of Ninth Church of Christ, Scientist. The one-hour lecture will be given in the Church Edifice, 175 Junipero Serra Boulevard at 3 p.m. The public is invited, and no tickets or admission charge are required.

Brotherhood Week Observed

By RABBI SOLOMON SHORE

Several decades ago, a group of distinguished clergymen representing the Catholics, Protestants, and Jewish faiths, organized the National Conference of Christians and Jews, to diminish the sudden rise in activities of the K.K.K. who, at that time, had disseminated hatred and bias against Catholics, Jews and Negroes.

As a result of this historical convocation on the part of the various ethnic and religious groups who stood up against those who would sow disunity and suspicions among us, a better understanding was established and one week during the month of February was set aside known as "Brotherhood Week."

Brotherhood Week was observed this year at a luncheon meeting in Congregation B'nai Israel, 1575 Annie Street, in Colma, in the presence of representatives of all churches, and heads of various social and city officials.

Congregation 'B'nai Israel took the initiative this year by sponsoring this luncheon meeting to preserve unity and understanding among Christians and Jews.

American Jews carry an unusual burden at the present time, both in this country and in other lands where Jewish people dwell, to help retain the image of our people as a "People of Peace" and to protect all those of our people who are in need of our help.

We try to help the needy of our people both here and abroad with all means at our disposal, but financial help is not enough.

In some countries our brethern are deprived of religious and cultural freedom. In those countries the governments curtail the right of Jewish people to build Synagogues, the right to educate our children in religious schools; the right to communicate with other Jewish communities the world over.

The present conflict in the Middle East has given rise to religious strife and misunderstanding as well as politically. Islam is beginning to practice Anti-Semitism and we are very much concerned about. Three million Jews in Russia, and almost that many in the Holy Land need our help socially and politically, not to mention those in France.

We want the American people to be aware of our present dilemma, to understand us and to help us to protect the good image of our people.

The conference of Christians and Jews is the national organization trying to preserve the religious ideal of brotherhood and goodwill among men.

Catholic Women to Elect New Officers in San Bruno

The San Mateo Deanery of the Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women will meet March 10, in St. Robert's Parish Hall, Oak Avenue and Crystal Springs Road in San Bruno.

Hostesses for the meeting will be St. Robert's Women's Guild. Mrs. Edward de la Torre is president.

Election of officers will take place during the business meeting beginning at 7:30 p.m. conducted by Deanery president, Mrs. Walter Gillegley.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Mrs. William Hatch, junior past president of San Francisco Deanery. Her topic will be "Movies, TV, and You."

As Mrs. Hatch is also a past president of the Northern California Motion Picture and TV Council, past chairmen of TV and Motion Picture Office of the Council of Women's Clubs, and assistant director of the Catholic Office for Motion Pictures (Legion of Decency), her remarks should be of great interest to concerned women of the community.

All officers, delegates, moderators, as well as interested members of the community, are invited to attend.

For car pool or other information call North county representatives, Mrs. Ruth Richmond, 34 Henry Place, Millbrae; or Mrs. Isaac Carroll, P. O. Box 425, Half Moon Bay.

Italian Catholic Federation Offers Scholarships to 20

An invitation to local high school students who are Catholic and wholly or partly of Italian ancestry to compete for 20 college entrance scholarships of $250 each has been issued by the Italian Catholic Federation.

Application blanks may be obtained by writing the Scholarship Committee of the organization at 678 Green Street, San Francisco, and must be returned to the committee by April 8.

Single scholarships include those provided by the Peninsula District, the San Mateo District, and Branch No. 19 of Colma.

The scholarships are open to qualified students who will graduate this year from any public, private or parochial high school in California.

Awards will be made on the basis of financial need, scholastic record, activities in high school showing leadership and character, and personal statements. Faculty recommendations must accompany each application.

Purpose of the scholarships is to encourage students of Italian ancestry to obtain educaions which will increase their usefulness as American citizens, according to Albert M. Teglia, of Daly City, Grand President of the Italian Catholic Federation.

Regional Lutheran Youth Director Sets DC Visit

'What's Right with Church' Is Westside Baptist Topic

Today much is being said about what is wrong with the church as an institution, but Sunday, at 7 p.m., Pastor A. David Donnelly of the Westside Baptist Church will speak on the topic, "What's Right with the Church."

Tenor soloist at the service will be Bill DeLung.

"A Purposeful Prayer" is the topic chosen by Pastor Donnelly for the 11 a.m. worship hour message, Sunday — third in a series of messages from Paul's letter to the church at Ephesus.

Special music for this service will be the Ladies Trio, consisting of Mrs. Gilmore Swanson, Mrs. Bill DeLung and Miss Diane Swedberg. Mrs. Roy King will accompany.

At 9:45 a.m., 15 age-graded, Bible-entered classes meet for instruction and fellowship. Sunday School at Westside Baptist is structured so the whole family has an opportunity for christian education.

During the morning worship hour, a primary church service is conducted for boys and girls four through seven years of age. Also during the adult worship hour, a nursery is maintained for babies and toddlers.

Three youth groups meet at the 6:15 p.m. hour. Junior Jet Cadets, Junior High and Senior High CYF, and the Primary Girl's Missionary Guild, a group for second and third grade girls.

On March 11, at 7:50 p.m., the Women's Missionary Society will meet at the home of Mrs. James McLean, 1165 Linda Mar Boulevard, Pacifica, for annual election of officers.

Thursday, at 7:30 p.m., the Deacon Board will meet at the home of James McDaniels, 428 Glasgow, Pacifica.

Prayer and Bible study hour will be held at 7:30 p.m. today at the church parsonage, 3370 Longview Drive, San Bruno. Pastor Donnelly will lead in the study of the book of Titus.

Westside Baptist holds its Sunday services at the San Andreas School auditorium, Inverness Drive and Hickey Boulevard, Pacifica (Fairmont).

Broadmoor Presbyterian Sharing Offering Slated

The annual One Great Hour of Sharing Offering will be taken this Sunday at the two Sunday Schools and Worship Services at 9:30 and 11 a.m. of the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, 337 87th Street, Daly City.

Joining with other congregations of the same denomination and other denominations through out the country, members and families of the local church will bring their gifts in expression of compassion for the less fortunate. Sunday School pupils will bring church coin banks in which coins have been placed daily in sacrificial giving for the past three weeks. Adults will participate using a special offering envelope.

The local pastor, the Rev. Herbert C. Tweedie, stated, "Our souls would indeed be dead if we could no longer feel pangs of remorse at the thought of displaced people. In these times, God's love needs to be even more apparent to offset the fear that looms as a threat of greater agony in the world's regions of need."

For example, in the Middle East there was last year expended 953,117 tons of food, clothing, blankets, soap, layettes, etc., with a value of $489,186.86.

This was done through Church World Service, the interdenominational church relief agency.

"How secure are you?"

What is your idea of security? Most of us tend to try and find our security in systems, things, or people.

Yet, experience tells us that all three are as changeable as human thinking.

In this free public lecture, Paul K. Wavro, C.S.B., a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, states, "We don't really have a right sense of security until we perceive that security is in ideas — spiritual ideas, not in systems, things, or people."

And he goes on to show how we may find the spiritual ideas that bring true security to our lives, through a better understanding of man's relationship to God.

You will enjoy this lecture. Everyone is welcome.
